ROOSEVELT FOR FIRST-CLASS NAVY

Former President Makes a Strong Plea for New Methods to Solve New Problems.

WARMLY GREETED BY SOUTH

Reiterates Doctrine Which He Announced on His Recent Western Trip.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7—The south gave Theodore Roosevelt a welcome today which he described as "Great, by George."

Throughout the first day of his southern trip, which took him across Virginia and a part of Tennessee, he received all the honors which the south can pay

Colonel Roosevelt started the day day determined to make but few speches because his throat is not yet in good condition. But wherever he went a crowd was waiting for him Each crowd was out to cheer and did cheer until he made a speech.

The colonel made his first speech before he had finished breakfast and kept at it until late at night, before his train left Knoxville for Atlanta. He said that he enjoyed the whole day immensely

The colonel talked "new nationalism" today. He brought into the south the doctrine which he announced on his recent western trip and emphasized it. He defended it from the criticisms that have been directed against it and said that it was not revolutionary but rather was designed to put a stop to things that might bring on a revolution.

He also put in a few words about his fight in New York state, saying he was trying to improve conditions there.

"It is quite a job," he said, "but we are going to do it."

Goes After Political Bosses.

The two chief speeches of the day were delivered at Bristol, Tenn., and Knoxville, Tenn. In his Bristol speech the colonel defended "new nationalism" and went after the political bosses, saying that bossism was "the negation of Democracy."

Knoxville's celebration was held on the grounds of the Appalachian exposition, where Colonel Roosevelt spoke in the afternoon and again at a banquet tonight

It was a cold, damp day with a good deal of rain, but the weather did not keep the people at home. All of east Tennessee poured out its people and several thousands were here from Virginia. The Eleventh United States cavalry from Chattanooga, which escorted Colonel Roosevelt to the exposition grounds, had its hands full in piloting him through the crowds to the steps of the exposition hall to review the parade.

When the parade was over the cavalrymen had another tussle with the crowd before they could get the colonel to the ball park, where he made his speech.

Rescues Lost Boy.

The colonel had barely made a fair start when he was interrupted by the sound of weeping Someone spied a

SAYS BANKERS ARE TO BLAME

POSTAL SAVINGS ACT RESULT OF APATHY.

Sessions Close at Los Angeles. F. O. Watts of Nashville President.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7—F. O. Watts of Nashville, Tenn., was chosen president and William Livingstone of Detroit, Mich., vice president of the American Bankers association for the ensuing year at the final session of the convention of the association in this city today.

Invitations for the convention of bankers in 1911 were presented from New Orleans, Atlantic City, San Antonio, Richmond, Va., Niagara Falls and St. Louis but the matter of making a selection was left to the executive council, and it was stated that a decision will not be reached until the council meets in New York next May.

The convention of bankers went on record as indorsing a plan to hold an exposition in 1915 in commemoration of the opening of the Panama canal, but no indorsement of a site was made.

The address of Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio on the work of the United States monetary commission was one of the features of the closing day of the convention. The speaker reviewed the work of the commission and asked the hearty co-operation of the American Bankers association.

Puts Blame on Bankers.

Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines spoke on the money question in which he said that the apathy of the bankers was responsible for the passage of the postal savings bank act.

Frank B. Anderson of San Francisco addressed the convention on the Pacific coast's need for banking and currency reform, and urged the bankers to take up seriously the question of having the national bank law amended so as to allow the banks to accept time drafts in order to build up a discount market.

A resolution asking congress at its next session to appropriate sufficient funds to defray the cost of transporting silver free of charge in the United States was adopted.

Costly Gifts Presented.

Just before adjournment President Pierson gave way to the newly elected president, F. O. Watts who was warmly received by the delegates. President Watts was presented with a handsome silver loving cup from 40 of his friends in Nashville who sent a congratulatory message.

The retiring president was presented with a handsome pin and beautiful solid silver service by members of the association in addition to many floral offerings.

At the meeting of the executive council, Charles L Huttig, of St. Louis was chosen chairman for the ensuing year and Fred L. Farnsworth of New York was reelected general secretary of the American Bankers association

MINER DECAPITATED.

ASPEN, Colo., Oct. 7.—Richard Pierce, who operated a compressor at the Smuggler mine, was killed instantly today when attempting to tighten a valve. He had stopped the machinery and poked his head between the spokes of the fly wheel to better observe his work The wheel started backwards and Pierce was decapitated. Two of Pierce's brothers reside in Cripple Creek.

BOTH HOUSES "AT EASE" AWAITING COMMITTEE REPORT

Special to The Gazette

DENVER, Oct 7—"Nothing doing. Nothing doing." This short negative has been so long a complete epitome of the proceedings in the special session of the Seventeenth general assembly that repetition is something of a bore. All the political possibilities of the stagnation existing have been canvassed, and they are legion. So an exhausted vocabulary protests. "One can't praise 'em, and roasting 'em don't have any effect."

Both houses were "at ease" all morning, waiting for a report from the committee on conference, which is said to be trying to settle or reconcile differences between rival leaders in the Democratic party From that committee came, at intervals, the customary hopeful bulletin that the members were approaching an agreement, needing only a little more time As the hours passed and no better messages were sent from the conference, the two houses took a recess to 3 o'clock in the afternoon, meaning to try to hold the members in the building until such time as the committee, in its majesty of controlling the situation, might deign to admit the other members to their confidence.

The last word officially from the committee was similar to the first word returned, when it went out "that an agreement was imminent."

Outside of official sources it is learned that the deadlock is just as it was at the beginning. Those members representing the Denver machine insist on the full convention feature, with the provision for so placing convention nominees that they may be selected from the list without trouble to the voter Various "compromises" have been offered, but all have been laid aside, because of the objections of these members And that is all the result of the long hours spent in smoking good cigars.

Members anticipate a disagreement of the present, which is the second, committee on conference. Predictions are that the disagreement will throw the two bodies into a languid sort of a turmoil, which is another way of stating that each side will obstinately declare the other should grant concessions Such action will defer what small chance there has been for quick adjournment And the members and employes and political strikers who hang about the assembly will resume the loafing about the capitol grounds and the high buildings awaiting a disgusted order from the Governor to quit and go home. As it stands the only chance for adjournment is in the Governor giving the word.

Senator John B. Stephen was today excused from further attendance during the special session. Though some senators objected, the courtesy was given the senator that he may open his campaign.

MICHIGAN DEMOCRATS HAVE A LIVELY TIME

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Oct. 7—Democrats in their state convention today fought over platform planks and other details. The session was continued until 8 p. m. after a late start had been made.

The resolution committee finally introduced an incomplete platform over which they had struggled for five hours. The delegates were unwilling to accept it hastily and a contest over the insertion of an initiative and referendum plank, attended with a score of speeches, almost culminated in a fist fight on the floor

Action on the plank finally was deferred until the next convention and the delegates scrambled for trains

The platform as adopted denounces the Payne tariff bill, arraigns the Republican congressmen of Michigan for their acceptance of it It demands bipartisan state boards and commissions as a protection against scandals such as were recently exposed in the state. The placing of all state employes under civil service was recommended and the candidacy of Lawton Hemans for governor and John T. Winship for United States senator were lauded

The candidates nominated were

Justice of supreme court, Mark Norris

Attorney general T J Bresnahan.

Secretary of state Adolf Peterson

Treasurer, R V McArthur

Land commissioner, O F Barnes

Auditor general Thomas Gordon.

CANNOT AGREE ON A MAN TO HEAD TICKET

BOSTON, Oct. 7—Massachusetts Democrats were still waiting tonight for the announcement of the regular nominee for governor At the convention of yesterday and early today Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston was nominated as a stop-gap candidate, with the understanding that he would withdraw later to make way for a candidate to be chosen by a committee, but tonight the leaders of the party were uncertain as to the identity of their next standard bearer. The committee of four, appointed by the convention after the delegates had been in session 13 hours without reaching any understanding, gathered for a second time this evening, but at the close of the meeting apparently were no nearer a selection than before It is said however, that the deliberations of this committee thus far have been so harmonious that the members have not availed themselves of the authority vested in them by the convention of choosing a fifth member to prevent a deadlock. They have adjourned until tomorrow

Col William A Gaston of Boston, former Congressman Joseph H O'Neill former Congressman John A Crosby and Justice Charles A De Courcey of the superior court have been mentioned as probabilities

Meanwhile Frederick W. Mansfield and Clifton Loring of Medford have been settled upon as the temporary candidates for governor and lieutenant governor and their names will be filed with the secretary of state tomorrow the understanding being that they will withdraw when the committee settles upon who shall be the regular candidates

Thomas P Riley of Malden who it is expected would be given consideration by the committee for the nomination for lieutenant governor has started the work of getting the signatures necessary to have his name placed upon the ballot

Congressman Eugene N Foss, in a statement tonight declared he was no longer a candidate for governor

DEITZ, RESISTING, SAYS HE WILL DIE BEFORE GIVING UP

WINTER, Wis. Oct. 7.—Final efforts to get John F. Deitz to surrender peaceably to the sheriff of Sawyer county failed this afternoon and Attorney General Frank T. Gilbert upon leaving for Madison, said to Sheriff Madden.

"Do your duty

The sheriff undoubtedly intends to do this, as his 72 deputies are drawing closer to the little log cabin on the Thornapple river and at daybreak tomorrow an attempt is to be made to arrest the Cameron Dam defendant.

At the conclusion of the conference this afternoon Deitz predicted that he would be shot but said that he would die a martyr to his cause and family.

The governor's representatives today offered to guarantee Deitz immunity for all the alleged crimes charged against him and members of his family with the exception of the Horrell shooting if he would surrender. He was offered ample protection, legal counsel and a change of venue, but Deitz insists that all civil claims against him must also be dropped before he will be captured alive. The civil claims include judgments against him amounting to $25,000.

Father Joseph Rilon will leave Winter at 2 o'clock this morning by team for Cameron Dam to render any assistance he can. The circle of deputies about Deitz is closing in and the finish must come soon. Throughout the day besiegers and the besieged eyed each other through field glasses neither side caring to fire the first shot.

Deitz at one time this afternoon walked into what was planned as a trap but the two deputies sent to a point of woods near which he was standing had not arrived at their station. If they had the end would have come then Later in the afternoon Deitz refused to leave the cabin and the evening chores were done by his children Helen the 14-year-old daughter and Leslie went to the spring for water In the evening Leslie was seen going to the bank with his blanket with the evident intention of staying there throughout the night.

When the rise of the sun discloses their position he and the two deputies Thorbahan and Van Alstine, will find themselves at close quarters. The town of Winter is in a state of feverish excitement.

FUNERAL HALL TO BE GUARDED

GENERAL SERVICE FOR TIMES VICTIMS.

Benefit Fund Now $30,000 and Increasing Rapidly—Only 18 Bodies Found.

LOS ANGELES, Oct 7—Funds for the relief of families left dependent by the Times explosion displayed signs today of mounting up to a figure which may soon bear comparison with the amounts appropriated for the capture and conviction of the conspirators. Banks have joined with the newspapers in collecting the funds, and it was announced tonight that the total so far collected was more than $30,000. This will be divided among the families of 21 Times employes It is probable that when the subscription lists are closed there will be more than $2,000 available for each family

Only 17 bodies of the men who lost their lives in the explosion and fire have been recovered. None was taken from the ruins today, and hope of getting any more out has been all but abandoned It is believed that either the force of the explosion or the intense flames which instantly followed disintegrated the bodies of those still missing and that the cinder fragments were hauled away with the debris

Only 18 of the 23 supposed to have been killed have been accounted for.

A general funeral for the victims will be held Sunday General Otis arranged today for their interment in a plot in Holywood cemetery, which will be marked by a shaft to be erected to their memory

A great throng is expected to attend the funeral, and though the city is quiet with no undercurrent of feeling apparent Temple auditorium, where the services are to be held, will be heavily guarded

A JOINT CONFERENCE

House of Bishops and Deputies of Protestant Episcopal Church Hear Reports.

CINCINNATI, Oct 7—The first conference of the house of bishops and the house of deputies of the Protestant Episcopal church now holding its triennial convention in this city took place today when auxiliary reports from various committees were heard

Four auxiliaries met in the joint conference. These included the women's auxiliary, the Sunday school auxiliary, the American Church Missionary society and the American church building fund committee.

The latter committee announced that it had accumulated $540,003 for the purpose of aiding in erecting churches throughout this country and in missionary districts

According to the report of the board of missions more than $5,000,000 has been given to the mission work of the church since the triennial convention of 1907.

The report shows that the board had expended $1,568,238 for home missions and $1,731,083 for foreign missions during the last three years. It has maintained 1 365 missions during the last three years, carrying on the work in 42 dioceses, 22 mission districts and the canal zone.

The budget for proposed expenditures for missions for the fiscal year ending next May is $1,253,000.

AN ELECTION WITHIN FEW MONTHS

Portugal's Provisional Government Will Remain in Office Only Short Time.

WILL DEVELOP DEFENSES

Another Chief Point of Program Is to Separate Church and State.

LISBON, Oct. 7.—The establishment of a republic in Portugal is an accomplished fact For a city that has just passed through the throes of a bloody revolution and sustained a bombardment, Lisbon today is in cloudless sunshine, and wears a smiling aspect

The republican flag flutters on nearly every building and from every vehicle, the streets are thronged with promenaders, including a good sprinkling of tourists with guidebooks in hand; shops and offices have been reopened and business generally has been resumed

The only evidence of the recent perturbation are small bodies of troops stationed in the principal open spaces of the city and the passage now and then of Red Cross ambulances.

The noticeable outward signs of the new regime are the presence everywhere of the green and red flag of the republic and the complete disappearance of King Manuel's portrait from public exhibition In fact not a vestige is now seen of the picture post card portraits of the king or of any other member of the royal family

They have given way to pictures of members of the government and the photographic records of the revolution in the shape of groups of armed leaders and companies of insurgent troops, not in action, but posing for the camera

Damage Surprisingly Slight.

The damage done to the city by the bombardment was surprisingly slight. The total number killed has not been ascertained, but it probably does not exceed 300.

The streets never were as busy as at present cheering for the republic, troops on horse and afoot pass and repass all carrying the flag of the republic, which the people massed on the pavements salute respectfully, doffing their hats and cheering There is no unusual excitement.

The recent events that startled the world are discussed with calmness by all classes. The general feeling evidently is one of relief that a crisis long anticipated was surmounted so speedily with comparatively little violence and such a brief dislocation of the national life

The Man of the Hour.

The most interesting man in Portugal is the new president Theophile Braga, who may be said without exaggeration, to be the father, not only of this revolution, but of that in Brazil, having, by his standing as a professor in history and philosophy, prepared the ground for both movements His unassuming manners may be inferred from the fact, that last night after having been elected first president of Portugal he returned as

Mining Heavily Taxed; State Chapter to Meet October 21

The next meeting of the Colorado chapter of the American Mining congress will be held at 1510 Court Place, Denver, October 21 The principal question for discussion will be the taxation of the mining interests and industry of the state This topic is one of the most important to those in any way connected with mining, and to investigate the matter, a committee which includes E M. De La Vergne of the Mary McKinney, both of this city, has been appointed The other members of the committee are E. A. Colburn, A. G. Brownlee, R L Martin, A. V West and A W Warwick secretary of the chapter

Secretary Warwick has sent out the following letter regarding the taxation of the mining industry

Warwick's Letter.

"There can be hardly any question that the special session of legislature convened by Governor Orman 1902 passed a revenue law which bore very heavily upon the mining industry In that year mining was in the most prosperous condition Never before or since were the mines so actively worked or the mining men so encouraged or more mines being made Cripple Creek was booming Leadville had come back [illegible] and the San [illegible] very [illegible] tion to the [illegible] northern [illegible] Creek [illegible] active [illegible] posed [illegible] into [illegible] burdens [illegible] try It [illegible] ble fact that [illegible] lue bill went into [illegible] mining [illegible] menced to languish Mining men claim that the revenue law of 1902 is very largely responsible for this condition of affairs, and the Colorado chapter of the mining congress has appointed a committee to investigate this matter

Is Most Closely Taxed.

The secretary of the chapter reports that the committee is most actively engaged, and a great many interesting facts have been discovered The mining industry is most closely taxed It is the most completely taxed of any industry in the state. For example taking the assessors' figures for 1908 the taxable output of the state which is one fourth of the gross, was given as $8 451,200 The correct mineral output of the state as given by the bureau of mines for that year was $33,283,016—one-fourth of which amounts to $8,320,754 It will be seen therefore that the assessors' total is greater than the actual production

Now when we turn to the valuation of other property we find that live stock for example is very much under assessed This the state officials estimate that there were 1,4?0,000 cattle in the state in 1908 whereas the total returned by the assessors only aggregated 870,741 It was estimated that there were 3,000,000 sheep in the state Assessors' figures aggregated 1,870,072 The estimated number of swine was 450,000 The assessors figures aggregated 67,709

It will thus be seen that [illegible] taxed [illegible] taxation [illegible] mining men.

Subpoena Issued for Speaker of House in Lorimer Inquiry

CHICAGO Oct 7—The hearing before the Lorimer investigating committee in this city is nearing an end Lee O'Neill Browne, who told his story for the first time under oath concluded his testimony today and a subpoena was issued for Speaker Edward D Shurtleff who presided over the session of the legislature which elected Mr Lorimer and who, according to Browne first formally approached him with reference to securing Democratic votes for Lorimer Mr Shurtleff is expected to testify tomorrow as will State Senator D W Holstlaw who will be recalled to rebut the testimony of State Senator John Broderick. Holstlaw confessed that Broderick gave him $2,500 for his Lorimer vote and on this charge Broderick is under indictment at Springfield Broderick denied the charge while a witness before the senatorial committee The testimony of Shurtleff and Holstlaw will practically conclude the hearing here

Every effort was made today to discover the whereabouts of Representative Robert E Wilson alleged distributor of the St Louis jackpot, but without success He is said to be in poor health and the best information obtained by the sergeant at arms of the committee is that he is in the west in real estate business His father will be questioned tomorrow Wilson is under indictment on a charge of perjury in Cook county and on a charge of conspiracy to bribe at Springfield During his testimony today Browne said that he saw Wilson last month and that the latter seemed to be a nervous wreck

Senator Frazier led in the cross examination of Browne in the matter [illegible] the senator alluded to the fact that Browne had not testified at either of his trials the witness said he had not done so on the unanimous advice of his four attorneys He said that his counsel assured him that if he told his story in court he would be indicted for perjury no matter what he said—whether he spoke the truth or not

The hearing has not been distinguished for quiet but when Senator Frazier began asking whether Browne had received any money the stillness became painful The first question was

"Did you receive any money or anything of value for your vote for Senator Lorimer or your efforts to induce other Democrats to vote for him?"

"No sir" was Browne's reply

"Did you receive any money for campaign purposes because of your vote or acts?"

"No, not a penny" was the immediate response.

"Was any money contributed to your defense in the two trials, as a result of that vote or your activity in the election of Senator Lorimer?" asked the senator from Tennessee in clear low tones.

"Not a cent as a result of anything," came the equally distinct answer

"Did anyone at all contribute money to your defense?" was the insistent question of Senator Frazier

"Yes My friends came to my rescue otherwise I could not have had a defense for the expenses were very heavy

The last witness of the afternoon was Charles H Simmons, an engineer and contractor, who testified that he saw Lee O'Neill Browne give Representative White about $25 in the Briggs house, Chicago, June 17, 1909, after White had asked Browne for a loan

On cross-examination Attorney Austrian brought out that Simmons did not know either Browne or White at the time of the alleged loan and did not tell of the occurrence until the [illegible] usual in a second-class compartment of the train to his unpretentious little home in the suburbs, quietly reading the congratulations of the richest and the humblest of his friends and deprecatingly acknowledging the frantic ovations of his fellow passengers.

AN ELECTION

Braga has not many spare moments but he was kind enough today to receive the correspondent of the Associated Press. He particularly desires it to be understood that the revolution has no military or personal aim, but, like those in Brasil and Turkey, was purely the outcome of philosophical ideas.

To Realize Civil Life

This revolution he said was aimed to complete the realization of civil life. One of the means by which the late dynasty had endeavored to maintain its position he continued was continually to menace the people with British intervention to crush popular sentiment as if an alliance between these two nations was one between dynasties and not people.

Senhor Braga added that he had every confidence in the national resources and was convinced that an honest administration would suffice without adventitious means to put the finances of the country on a satisfactory footing and achieve the moral and physical improvement the nation so much needed. A strong proof of the readiness of the whole country to adopt a new form of government he said, was the fact that the provinces were calmly awaiting the publication of the manifesto and constitution of the government and then rally to the republic.

National Election Shortly.

Senhor Braga concluded by eulogizing his colleagues, all of whom he said had his utmost confidence. The government is about to order a revision of the voting lists preliminary to holding elections for a constituent chamber. The provisional government will not remain in office beyond three months.

The chief points in the government's program are:

"First—The development of public instruction and national defenses on land and sea.

"Second—Administrative decentralization.

"Third—Colonial autonomy.

"Fourth—To guarantee fundamental liberty by judicial power.

"Fifth—Expulsion of monks and nuns.

"Sixth—Obligatory civil registration.

"Seventh—Lay instruction.

"Eighth—Separation of church and state.

"Ninth—The strengthening of the credit and finances of the country.

Friars Resist Attack

On account of reports that some of the troops in the provinces have not yet declared their adherence to the republic the provisional government is exercising the greatest vigilance. Fifty nine heavy guns and 10 Maxims have been posted in trenches on the heights of the city and are ready to check any attempted invasion of Lisbon. Up to the present, however the government has received no advices of risings in favor of the monarchy.

The authorities sent a force today to search the convent at Graca and arrest the friars. On arriving there they found the doors barricaded. The soldiers and members of the populace fired several volleys into the buildings whereupon the friars returned the attack their bullets striking the roadway and adjacent buildings. The attackers then withdrew for consultation.

Shortly they returned to the attack, assailing the heavy doors of the convent with battering rams. When the doors yielded the soldiers and people rushed in and searched every corner of the edifice, but not a friar was to be found. It is surmised they made their escape by underground passages.

U. S. Withholds Action.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—A circular note sent simultaneously to all the powers by Provisional President Braga announcing that he has been proclaimed president of Portugal, that the revolution has been successful, and that he has appointed a cabinet, was received by the state department today. The United States has not replied to the note.

The state department will not commit itself by any form of communication until proof of the stability of the new government is forthcoming.

The protected cruiser Des Moines is on its way to Lisbon, where it should arrive Sunday morning. It is believed the warship will not have to land men to protect American interests, but the vessel will report on condition there.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 7.—Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the state department and Charles M. Pepper, commercial adviser today came from Valley Forge, Pa. where they conferred with Secretary Knox, to receive instructions from the President regarding Canadian reciprocity.

It is understood the negotiations, which began last spring will be resumed this month, probably at Ottawa.

It is reported that the reciprocity program of the administration embraces an arrangement with Newfoundland.

The President had a number of other callers. William Whitman, president of the National Wool Association talked with Mr. Taft for half an hour, but nothing was given out as to his mission.

Former Senator George Turner of Washington, recommended to the President the appointment of Judge Edward Whitson as a member of the new court of commerce. Mr. Whitson is now judge of the United States court for the eastern district of Washington.

DENVER, Oct. 7.—After the adjournment of the extra session the special senate committee on irrigation investigation in Colorado will hold sittings in the Arkansas valley, Rio Grande valley and Montezuma county; also in northern and eastern portions of the state.

The purpose of the committee which was appointed at the seventeenth regular session is to investigate irrigation in Colorado with reference to water sources, state and federal jurisdiction over the control thereof, the amount of unappropriated waters, defects in present irrigation laws and methods of procedure in securing water rights, and recommendations for the amending of the laws to meet changing conditions pertaining thereto.

They are to report findings at the Eighteenth general assembly session, January, 1911.

Miss Oliver traveled nearly 500 miles out west horseback. There was no halting for a day or two nor no resting until she might feel better. She kept right at it and seemed to like it the longer it lasted. General Oliver is exceedingly proud of his daughter. Although a great horseman himself, he says Miss Marion beats any male Oliver he ever heard of.

TAFT ADDS AND ELIMINATES FORESTS

EQUAL TO AREA OF SEVERAL STATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—By the time President Taft signs the remaining proclamations changing national forest boundaries which have already been approved by the secretary of agriculture and Chief Forester Graves, it is estimated that an area of land as large as the states of New Jersey and Delaware, combined, will have been eliminated from the forests, and that there will have been added more than one-half as much, or tracts exceeding the area of Connecticut.

The announcements of small eliminations or additions made by the President during the last six months have given very little idea of the extent of the work which has been done in making the National Forest readjustments. The eliminations will amount to more than 6,000,000 acres, and the additions will aggregate about 3,000,000 acres. A little more than one-half of the changes planned for have been made.

According to department officials, various reports which have been given circulation concerning the changes made have been misleading to the extent that many people have been made to believe the national forest policy was not to be advanced by the present administration any more than was absolutely necessary. Exaggerated importance was given to the eliminations of land when made, and little or no attention was given to the new additions. What appears now to have been a wrong impression was helped along by some enemies of conservation and of the movement for the betterment of public land administration who wished to make it appear that the dismissal of Pinchot, as chief forester, was followed by a reversal of his policies.

President Taft has eliminated a great deal of land from the national forests, but at the same time he has added considerable new land. The chief reason why the eliminations are nearly twice the area of the additions is that the law fathered by Senator Heyburn, Congressman Mondell, and others, made it impossible to create new national forest additions in the six states of Idaho Wyoming Montana, Colorado, Oregon and Washington. Many eliminations, however, were made in these states. In his St. Paul speech, the President said that he would seek to have this law repealed so that additions as well as eliminations can be made in the future, and if he succeeds, officials here think that he will have achieved one of his greatest victories for conservation.

The land thrown out was considered by the forest officers to be better fitted for other uses than national forests, and that added included tracts in the public domain chiefly valuable for timber conservation and protection of watersheds. Both the additions and eliminations were proclaimed after reports and maps had been made following a thoroughgoing examination conducted in the summer of 1909, while Pinchot was in office, and at his personal direction. In fact some of the maps for the changes which are now being made bear Pinchot's initials of approval. The readjustments which have been brought about have been in keeping with the best conservation policy forest officers say, and in line with the ideas of the former forester, as well as of the President, the secretary of agriculture and the present chief forester, Henry S. Graves.

PURE FOOD INSPECTION ACTIVE IN NORTHWEST

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 7.—Following a chemical analysis of meat purchased in three Tacoma butcher shops, in which large quantities of sodium sulphate are said to have been found, warrants were issued today for the arrest of four butchers. Miss Esther Allstrum, pure food inspector, caused the analyses and swore to the warrants.

GALVESTON PIER BURNS.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 7.—Fire today destroyed Pier C of the Southern Pacific Terminal company in the western portion of the city. The loss is estimated at $120,000, covered by insurance.

The pier was occupied by E. E. Young and Austin export companies, both handlers of cotton seed products. The steamship Monadnock moored at the pier was slightly burned but not seriously damaged.

POLITICAL UNCERTAINTIES HAVE SUPPRESSED DEMAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Improvement rather than enlargement in general demand is the notable feature this week. Free marketing of crops and good crop results have helped sentiment but political uncertainties have suppressed demand.

In one line however that of cotton manufacturing past curtailment and absence of any apparent weight of stocks and higher prices for raw material caused by official reports of crop deterioration in September have made buyers more eager for some lines of fabrics. Higher grade fabrics note chief strength. Collections as a whole are fair to good.

SHERMAN AND LORIMER TO ATTEND SAME BANQUET

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Vice President Sherman and United States Senator William Lorimer will sit at the same banquet board here October 12 when local Knights of Columbus will celebrate Columbus day. The feast will be spread in the gold room of the Congress hotel where the Hamilton club dinner took place some weeks ago and Theodore Roosevelt declined to attend unless the club's invitation to Senator Lorimer was withdrawn. Mr. Sherman's acceptance was received yesterday and Senator Lorimer stated today that he would attend although not as a speaker. He will be at the speakers' table, however.

RHEUMATISM

PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No cure of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uratic impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. CANNOT STOP THAT GIRL FROM RECTOR'S

"The Girl From Rector's" will be produced at the Opera House next Monday as scheduled, notwithstanding the objections which have been made to Mayor Avery. In a written opinion, City Attorney McKesson yesterday pointed out that the Mayor has no right arbitrarily to prevent the production of a show before he has seen it, and without knowledge that it is immoral. McKesson's opinion is as follows:

McKesson's Opinion.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Oct. 6, 1910.
Hon. H. F. Avery, Mayor,
Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dear Sir: You wish to know how far you can go as mayor under the ordinances of the city in prohibiting immoral or improper plays at the theaters of the city.

I have not been able to find any ordinance of this city which gives you authority to prohibit the giving of any play. Some cities have ordinances of this character, but if this city has any such ordinance I have been unable to find it.

Hence, if you have any authority in such matters it is that which inherently resides in the chief executive of a municipality.

Has No Authority.

I know of no law which clothes the mayor of a city with authority to arbitrarily determine in advance that a play which is billed to be given at a regularly licensed theater, is immoral and prohibit its production.

The most that the mayor could do legally to prevent the presentation of a play which he knew was immoral or indecent, would be to serve notice on the manager of the theater and of the company that if they attempted to present such play, he, as chief executive of the city, would cause their arrest, and that of the actors, as soon as any improper or immoral features were presented in the production of such play. Those concerned in the production of the play could, in spite of such notice, present the same, without interference, if they refrained from presenting the improper parts, but if they began the presentation of immoral or indecent parts, they could be immediately arrested and the further presentation of the play stopped.

Law Presumes Innocense

The law never presumes that a man intends to commit a crime, and for this reason the courts will not enjoin the threatened commission of a crime, and would not enjoin the threatened production of a play, the presentation of which might be criminal, but if the play was presented until it was disclosed that a criminal act had been done, the courts would, if a jury found the parties guilty, punish the offenders.

You, as mayor of the city, cannot legally enjoin or prohibit the production of any play where no license is required, and do that which the courts could not do, but you can arrest one in the act of committing a crime, and have him arraigned before the proper courts for trial, and it is for the courts to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused and render judgment accordingly.

Mayor an Executive Officer.

There appears to be a popular notion that the mayor of a city has vested in him legislative, executive and judicial powers, and that he can make the law, or that he can determine what is right and what is wrong, and that he can arrest those who violate the laws thus made by him, and then sit as a judicial officer and punish those he has arrested. It is unnecessary for me to tell you that this popular opinion is wholly wrong, because you know it. You are an executive officer. It is your duty to see that those who violate the laws which have been made by the legislature or the council are apprehended and brought before a court of competent jurisdiction for trial. You can demand that the law be obeyed, and cause the arrest of those whom you know to have violated the law, but there your authority ends.

I repeat what I said when you asked me whether you could stop the presentation of "The Clansman," that you have no authority to arbitrarily prohibit the presentation of any play at our theaters, and if you attempted to do such a thing you could be enjoined by the courts, and mulcted in damages if you caused any by your wrongful act. Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) C. L. M'KESSON,
City Attorney.

ROOSEVELT FOR FIRST-CLASS

small boy near the grandstand who was sobbing violently. The boy was led up to the steps and delivered over to the colonel, who stopped his speech. The boy explained to him between sobs that he was lost. The colonel led the urchin to the front of the platform, where every one could see him.

"What's your name?" he asked the boy.

"Eccles Nelson," said the boy.

"Where from?"

"Union county."

Colonel Roosevelt shouted out the boy's name and asked if his father was in the crowd. No one claimed the boy at first, and the colonel shouted his name again. Then he saw a hand wagging above the heads of the people some distance away.

"Come along," Mr. Roosevelt shouted.

The crowd was so dense that the elder Nelson could not reach the platform for several minutes, but Colonel Roosevelt would not go on with his speech until the boy was restored to his father.

Colonel Roosevelt opened his speech by complimenting the people on their exposition. Then he discussed "new nationalism", and the navy.

Learn and Improve.

"We have plenty of things to learn and plenty of things which we can improve on," said Colonel Roosevelt. "I have come in contact with several of them, and I am engaged in trying to improve my native city and state of New York. It is quite a job, but we are going to do it.

"It is not enough to say that we do not intend to do anything bad. People that do not go forward, go backward. They do not stand still. As a people we can keep ourselves, our citizenship on a high plane of usefulness and achievement only by applying to the new things the old principles the old morality that enabled our father in their days to achieve success for our common land. Our people that counted in the past, counted not by sitting down and glorifying themselves because their ancestors did well; they counted by doing the job that they had to do.

"Instruments change. Take an example from the army. The men who fought in the Civil war fought shoulder to shoulder with muzzle-loading muskets. Our army today uses repeating rifles. It is folly, it would be rank folly today to decline to adopt new weapons because the old ones did well in the days of Grant and Lee.

"There are two lessons from that. In the first place, the folly of refusing to adopt new expedients in order to solve the new problems, and next, to remember that that, while the methods must be diferent, the spirit must be the same.

Must Have First-Class Navy.

"It is not necessary for us to have a big army, but we must have a first-class navy. I am a profound believer in peace, and I want to see a navy kept up because I know of nothing that procures a stronger desire on the part of other people to keep at peace with us. That is common sense.

"Speak softly and carry the big stick. There are two sides of that. Always be cheerful. Remember it is the sign of a weak and foolish nature to insult anyone else. Speak softly, but have the United States navy as a big stick always ready.

"Now, friends, what I have said of the army applies in civil life. On the one hand we cannot solve our governmental problems of today unless we approach them in the spirit of our forefathers, who solved the problems of their days, and, on the other hand, it is simply folly to reject methods of government because they were not known to our forefathers. For instance, you will meet worthy persons who object to the national government taking care of interstate commerce business because it is a new thing. So is the repeating rifle a new thing, but where would the army be if it was not going to use the repeating rifle, but the good old flint lock was fine enough?"

Control the Corporations.

"Now, in the same way, the government must increase its power—its power of control—over the possible use of wealth in large aggregations. Continually, my friends, people say that I attack corporations when I speak as I now speak. For the thousandth time I will say that I am not attacking corporations. I am only saying that they have to be honestly managed.

"The little man can safely be left to be dealt with by his neighbors, whereas the big man is the neighbor of all of us. The man who controls the great railway systems that stretches for 1,800 or 2,000 or 3,000 miles—that man is the neighbor of all of us, and he is too big for any of us to deal with in his individual capacity.

"In the case of that man, you have to invoke the help of some bigger man, and that is Uncle Sam. I mean you have to get the representatives of all of us to deal with that particular kind of wealthy man. Deal justly with him."

Colonel Roosevelt's next step will be at Rome, Ga. He is due there at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, and will remain there until 1:30 p. m., when he will go to Atlanta.

LAUNCH INDEPENDENT CAMPAIGN IN TELLER

Senator Scott Accepts Nomination on Ticket for Re-election at Meeting in Cripple Creek.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 7.—The independent campaign in Teller county was launched tonight at the Lyric theater, when Senator Tully Scott made public his determination to accept the signed petition of voters of the county asking him to run for senator on the independent ticket. The petition was presented Senator Scott by District Attorney J. R. Ferguson, who was the presiding officer of the meeting.

Senator Scott, in accepting the petition, stated. "I would not be made of the stuff that mortals are made of if I would refuse your request."

He defended his actions in the senate, and challenged anyone to prove that he had not acted justly and wisely there.

Former United States Senator F. J. Cannon of Utah was present and pledged Senator Scott his support, and congratulated the voters on the filing of the ticket. Those present at the meeting signed the petition for the filing of an independent ticket.

Colorado City News

FIRE TRUCK IS BEING PLANNED FOR COLO. CITY

The Colorado City fire team and wagon will probably be replaced by an automobile truck of the latest design, if the plans of the council, and especially the fire committee, go through. The plan has been under discussion for the last month and has been investigated to some extent. The members of the fire committee are Aldermen Greenlee, Ripley and Meagher, and representatives of several auto truck companies have called upon them. An automobile fire wagon will probably be given a test in a few weeks.

The departure from the horse wagon has been suggested by council members and others, because of the great expense incurred in keeping the horses. Until last Tuesday night the city had been without a fire for two months, and during this time the horses were a useless expense. With so large a territory as the department covers, it is thought that an auto truck would prove more efficient, and the long runs could be made without harming the horses.

The council appears to favor the plan, and if the auto is purchased, at a cost between $4,000 and $5,000, the horses and wagon now in use would bring almost $2,500.

SAY THEY WILL NOT PAY SIDEWALK ASSESSMENT

That a number of property owners along Washington avenue will refuse to pay the sidewalk assessment because of the alleged fact that no legal summons was served, is a rumor that reached the ears of the aldermen yesterday. Several weeks ago the council ordered a number of delinquent sidewalks laid, and the contract was let. The work was begun, and yesterday property owners claimed that no legal summons was served. They declared they will bring the matter up at the next council meeting.

MOTHERS GETTING FUNDS FOR NEW KINDERGARTEN

Residents of the south side are getting subscriptions for a private kindergarten to be established there in a few weeks. The school board declared that at present nothing can be done in that line, and the mothers who are anxious for this institution are going to organize one of their own.

INFORMATION BUREAU IS STILL AT 431 COLO. AVE.

Although Secretary Geiger has removed his offices from 431 Colorado avenue, the present quarters of the Colorado City Ice and Fuel company, the information bureau and office of the chamber of commerce will remain in the front part of this office. The information bureau was a popular feature with tourists during the summer and every day strangers in the city drop in the office to ask about points of interest, trains, etc. The chamber of interest, trains, etc. The chamber or a reorganization are not known, and it is improbable that anything will be done until after the election, at least.

What the Press Agents Say

FAMOUS GEORGIA MINSTRELS
MATINEE AND NIGHT

Honest endeavor will always be crowned with success. No doubt this is the reason why Richards & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels have been so long before the public. To make this season better than last, to give the public a better show this year than last, has always been the watchword of the management. Worn-out ideas, shabby wardrobe and questionable acts have never found a place in their program. These methods may succeed for a time, but the American people are too intelligent to tolerate it for long. Not a questionable word, act or song can find place in the performance given by this company. Heads of families often hesitate to take their mothers, sisters, wives or children to a minstrel show for this reason, but they need have no fear to take them to a performance given by this company. The program is absolutely clean and refined. This company, which numbers nearly forty people, will be seen at the Opera House today, matinee and night.

The personnel of Richards — Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels this season includes such well-known names as Clarence Powell, Billy King, Kid Langford, Oscar Cameron, Dave Smith, Charlie Wilson, Jack Johnson, Fred Simpson, J. A. Watts, Will Robinson, Elmer Clay, Sidney Kirkpatrick and thirty others. The coming of this company is always heralded with delight by that portion of amusement-going people who enjoy a first-class minstrel show. For thirty years this sterling band of dusky fun makers has been appearing in all the principal cities and towns from coast to coast and elephantine adjectives would be a waste of time and space.

Matinee prices are 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. Night prices are 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. Seats may now be reserved for the night performance.

The band? Oh, yes, they still carry that large band of real musicians under the leadership of that wizard of the trombone, Fred Simpson. The big parade will be at 9:30 p. m.

"THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S."

Back of the enormous success of Dorothy Arville in the title role in "The Girl From Rector's" which ran three hundred nights at Weber's Music hall, New York, there is an interesting story. Paul M. Potter, the author of the play, had worried for weeks about the selection of a woman to fit the role. In the company of the producer, the stage manager and knowing friends he visited every theater in New York in the hope of being able to hit upon an actress who could handle the lines. Some were pretty but they appeared to lack grace, some had both beauty and grace but lacked fire, others had fire but it seemed there was always something lacking.

In despair Mr. Potter went to Chicago and visited every play house there. Then he stopped in at Philadelphia and finally returned to New York, losing heart every day. One afternoon he stopped into Rector's famous restaurant on Broadway with some business associates. At a table nearby he saw a pretty young woman sipping a glass of water.

"That girl" said the author, turning to the party, "is the style of woman I have all along had in mind for 'The Girl From Rector's.' She is the typical Rector girl and if she were an actress I would engage her on the spot."

A few moments later a well-known manager stepped in and engaged the fair patron in conversation. When he had finished he passed the table at which Mr. Potter was seated and the latter asked as to the identity of the young woman. He learned her name and the further fact she was a well-known actress. Two hours later she was under contract and a week later opened at Weber's Music hall, scoring the success of her career in the biggest success of the New York season.

"The Girl From Rector's" will be seen at the Opera House Monday night only. Seats are now on sale. Prices are 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

"THREE TWINS."

"Three Twins" will be the attraction at the Opera House Tuesday night for one performance only. "Three Twins" has many song hits, the "Yama Yama Man" and "The Cuddle Song" being the most prominent, with its tableaux showing the seven ages of cuddling in, without doubt, the most pathetic stage picture ever produced, concluding with an aerial swing weighing 4,000 pounds and illuminated with 2,000 electric lights, showing six beautiful girls in the basket, present a gorgeous spectacle.

The company is headed by Victor Morley, who created the leading role when the show was produced at the Whitney in Chicago, and is surrounded with an excellent cast, among whom are Willard Flanagan, Reggie Morris, Edward Wade, Edward P. Bower, Frank Smith, Harry Collins, Ada Bateman, Lillian Sadler, Minnie Allen, Marie Fanchonetti, Helen Du Bois, Estell Colbert and a chorus of 60 people.

Bessie Clifford will be seen as the Yama Yama girl, in which she scored so heavily in this city last season. Seats are now selling for this engagement of "Three Twins." The prices, which are the same as last year, are, Parquet, $2; dress circle, $1.50, balcony, $1, and gallery, 50 cents. Good seats may still be secured at the box office.

"WILDFIRE."

Laughter is the constant accompaniment of that popular racing comedy, "Wildfire," in which an excellent company, with the original scenic production, will appear at the Opera House for two performances, Saturday matinee and night of next week. Some critics declare that "Wildfire" is the best racing play ever written—better even than "Checkers" and other previous racing hits. It is scarcely surprising that "Wildfire" should be in a class by itself when one considers its distinguished source. George Broadhurst, author of "The Man of the Hour" and other great successes, and George V. Hobart, known to the laughing world as the humorous writer, "Dinkelspiel," and also author of "The Boys and Betty," are the writers of "Wildfire."

Luella Morey, one of the most beautiful women on the stage, will portray the role of the dashing widow, Mrs. Barrington. Miss Morey is an actress of acknowledged ability, and in "Wildfire" she handles the comedy and the emotional with equal success. One of the attractive features will be the beautiful gowns displayed by Miss Morey. Gus Alexander, the diminutive comedian, will appear in the role of the slangy stable boy, Bud, a characterization which is winning him popular recognition. A thorough knowledge of the details of racing is the basis of the much-talked-of second act in "Wildfire."

The scene is practically an exact duplicate of a prominent trainer's quarters at the leading race track near New York city. An outline of the theme of the play could not do justice to the wealth of characterization presented by the various types contained in the absorbing story, and the humor permeating the entire play. The play centers around a charming widow successfully operating a racing stable in the face of enormous obstacles. Her cleverness in meeting each seemingly impossible situation, and her glorious triumph in the winning of the handicap with "Wildfire," make her an intensely human character, quick to appeal to the heart of the auditor.

EXCELLENT SHOW WILL PACK MAJESTIC TODAY

Your last chance! When the curtain rings down at 10:30 o'clock tonight on the show at the Majestic theater you will not have another opportunity, at least during the present year, to see the bunch of artists that Manager Tammen is presenting this week. There will be three shows today as usual—one this afternoon and two tonight. Of course, Saturday crowds at the popular playhouse are always large and there is every indication that the theater will be packed at all three performances because of the merit of this week's bill, one of the best in the vaudeville line ever offered in Colorado Springs.

"This week's bill has certainly caught the public fancy," said Manager Tammen yesterday, "and it shows that Colorado Springs people appreciate my efforts to give them the best there is on the vaudeville stage. Warren and Francis are as clever a pair of athletes as ever appeared in this city, and they present only one of the high-class acts that I have been presenting this week. Bert Wiggin is equally as good, and Carberry and Neilson, Beulah and Anita Diaz have held their own in popular favor."

A GREAT RACING PLAY AT THE LYRIC

"The Tout's Remembrance"

This picture is a decided feature. It is a story of the racetrack with lively action, deep heart interest and touches of sparkling comedy. The racing scenes are actual and were obtained expressly for this picture at Juarez, Mexico. The photography is fine and the cast including Miss Ethel Clayton, is excellent.

"The Sepoy's Wife" is another Lyric headliner. A powerful and thrilling story of the Sepoy Rebellion in India in 1859. Remarkable in its scenic investiture and historically correct.

"Love's Old Sweet Song" is still another of the Lyric kind. A charmingly told story of love among the roses that later changes to neglect, but which was made right again through the strains of "Love's Old Sweet Song."

John Garrett, the sporting goods man, is giving away those prize winning votes.

Making Good Makes Friends

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than four decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that came into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, pasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over four decades ago.

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

GAZETTE 60c A MONTH

FROST AND AVERY DISPUTE OVER BILL

Mayor Avery and Health Commissioner Frost engaged in a short verbal passage at arms at yesterday's Council meeting, when Frost presented for payment a bill of $51.50 for the use of Health Officer Gillett's automobile in inspecting a number of dairies outside the city limits. A few months ago it was decided to discontinue the practice of giving the health officer a flat sum of $15 per month for auto maintenance, which also covered his out-of-town trips, and to submit in place an itemized statement on each trip of inspection. This action was taken over the protest of Frost, who prophesied that under such a system it would cost the city at least double for automobile hire.

The bill for $51.50 is for two months' auto hire from Dr. Gillett, and this, it is said, is about 10 per cent less than the city would have had to pay for outside machines. The bill was ordered paid.

Only routine business was transacted at yesterday's session. On recommendation of Water Superintendent McReynolds, a renewal of the lease on the Bean ranch to E. L. Curtis will be executed. The ranch is a part of the city's water system.

A petition to establish a curb line and sidewalk grade on North Chestnut street was referred to Commissioner Lawton and the city engineer.

St. Paul's M. E. church asked that a $6 fee for surveying its lot be rebated, and the request was granted.

The matter of granting the Denver and Rio Grande railroad permission to run a spur of track on Sierra Madre street, near Huerfano, was continued until Wednesday.

Permission was given for the erection of an electric light sign in front of the Colorado Springs Jewelry company's store on East Pikes Peak avenue.

In a letter from Galveston, Tex., Mayor Avery has been asked to name delegates to a meeting of the first commission congress to be held in that city, November 21, 22 and 23, and he desires the names of any who would like to attend. Galveston was the first American city to adopt the commission form of government.

BIG ELECTRIC SHOW TO OPEN TONIGHT

At exactly 7 o'clock this evening, amid the roar of twenty giant bombs, the oldest pioneer of Colorado will stand on the rostrum of the Denver auditorium and press the golden button that signals the opening of Colorado's great electric show. Fireworks, steam whistles and a myriad of dazzling electric lights will flame forth all over Denver, and the electric show, which runs until midnight of October 15, will be on in full blast.

Elaborate electrical displays will be a feature of the show, and one of the most attractive will be the booth of the Central Electric company of this city. Under the personal supervision of President James F. Boynton, this booth will be open as the headquarters of all Colorado Springs people who visit the auditorium during electric show week. The auditorium will not be open Sunday.

COWBOY ARTIST FINED FOR EARLY HUNTING

Guy Parker and Edward McConnell were haled into Justice Toombs' court yesterday afternoon on a charge of killing a deer on September 25, six days before the season opened. Both men pleaded guilty, and after Parker paid a fine of $25 and costs, which brought the total up to $43, McConnell was dismissed at the request of the district attorney's office. The deer was killed on Turkey creek.

Guy Parker, under the sobriquet of "Cowboy Artist of Turkey Creek," has achieved no little publicity within the last half dozen years. His pictures, all of which savor of the west, have been reproduced in eastern papers and magazines, and at one time it is understood that Parker planned to go east and round out his natural talents by a course in art.

Hero Well-Known Novel Lives in Colorado Springs

Living at 127 West Cimarron street, this city, is the hero of Marion Hughes' novel, "Oklahoma Charlie." The book, which had a great sale a decade ago, was written in a half humorous vein, and depicted the life and adventures of Charles Bothwell, familiarly known as "Oklahoma Charlie." Bothwell served through the Civil war, and then became an itinerant corn doctor. He traveled all over the southwest, but was best known in Arkansas and Oklahoma, where his odd [illegible], unique ways and fund of anecdote became proverbial.

He was not in the best of health when he came to this state, several months ago, and his sins of omission and commission were brought home to him at an evangelist's meeting at the Sunshine mission in Denver. He was converted then, and has since lived a life of seclusion at his little cottage in this city. He receives a pension from the government.

BOYS CLUB GIVEN MEMORIAL TABLET

In Loving Memory of Richard Gilliam Knowlton,
Instructor in This Boys Club.
Born December 21, 1878.
Died July 5, 1909.
Rich in Good Works.

With an appropriate service, the directors of the Boys Club association of Colorado Springs last night dedicated a handsome bronze tablet bearing the above inscription in memory of R. G. Knowlton, who was the well-beloved instructor there for several years. The tablet is in the hall of the clubhouse on South Tejon street.

The Rev. Adna W. Moore, probation officer, opened the services with prayer, after which Judge Little, of the juvenile court, spoke briefly of the excellent work accomplished by the organization in behalf of the boys, in affording so many of them a safe place in which to spend their evenings off the street, out of harm and where they can learn something.

Judge Little stated that no boy from the club has ever been brought before him, and that only one or two have been looked after by Mr. Moore, and then for trivial matters.

Mrs. Goddard Talks.

Mrs. Francis W. Goddard, the first chairman of the board of directors, spoke of the founding of the club in a humble little building, and of the growth of the organization to the present time, when the quarters are an ornament to the city. An appreciative tribute was paid to the memory of Richard G. Knowlton, who was for several years previous to his death in full charge of the work. Mrs. Goddard then presented the tablet to the club members on behalf of the directors, admonishing them always to note the four words of the tablet, "Rich in Good Works," as they went in and out of the club house, and to live by them. The 100 boys present listened with respectful attention, and were much impressed.

Mrs. Benjamin F. Webster, chairman of the house committee, responded briefly to Mrs. Goddard's remarks. Leonard Owen, who is now in charge of the building, himself a member of the club 12 years ago, accepted the tablet for the boys, speaking to them of "Dick," as they delighted to call Mr. Knowlton, and paying a heartfelt tribute to his memory.

The tablet, an excellent piece of art bronze from the Gorham establishment, and which up to that point in the services had been covered with an American flag, was then unveiled.

FRANCIS J. HOBBS BACK; PRAISES PRINCE RUPERT

After spending 18 months in Prince Rupert, British Columbia, the western terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the new Canadian transcontinental railroad, Francis J. Hobbs, who was for years a well-known mining man of this city, is here renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Hobbs believes that within a few years Prince Rupert will be a second Vancouver, which attained a population of 130,000 in a few years.

The Grand Trunk Pacific taps a very rich territory, more extensive than 16 of the ordinary western states of this country. The opportunities for investment and the possibilities of the new country are practically unlimited, according to Mr. Hobbs.

J. R. Talpey, another Colorado Springs man, is interested with Mr. Hobbs in the Prince Rupert Realty and Investment company, which, with their other interests, promises to make both of them wealthy.

WILL LECTURE HERE ON NEW THOUGHT SUBJECTS

Mrs. Elizabeth Severn of Chicago, an exponent of psychology and the "New Thought" principles, will deliver a series of lectures upon new thought topics in this city, beginning tomorrow night. She comes from a month's stay in Denver, where she lectured to large audiences.

Her lecture tomorrow night will deal with the new thought movement in this country and with the educational problems connected with the development of mind power. To this as well as to all of her lectures, the public is cordially invited. The lecture hall has not been selected.

During her stay here, which will probably not extend over two weeks, as she is on a trip to the coast, Mrs. Severn will lecture on such subjects as "The Key to Success," "Ancient Occultism" and "Mental Suggestion in Child Training." She will also spend some of her time in Manitou, where she will deliver lectures.

World-wide travelers say there is no grander scenery on the globe than on the Cripple Creek trip.

TO TELL BOULDER WHAT CHARTER HAS DONE FOR SPRINGS

Mayor Avery has written to the committee in charge of the campaign for a municipal charter convention for Boulder stating that he will accept the invitation of the committee to go there and explain what has been accomplished for Colorado Springs under charter government. Mayor Avery says that the most convenient day for him to come will be Friday, October 14.

A banquet at the Boulderado will be planned for that evening to entertain Mr. Avery. The members of the Boulder city council have been invited to attend the banquet at the close of which the speaking will take place.

REPUBLICANS HOLD SPIRITED RALLY; SMOKER PLANNED

An enthusiastic crowd of Republicans gathered in the court house last night and listened to several speeches outlining the work of the campaign and prophesying victory for the party. A spirit was manifested to get out and boost for the success of the entire ticket, and to that end a committee was appointed whose first duty it is to arrange for a big smoker or entertainment of some kind, at which all the Republicans of the county can let loose their bottled up enthusiasm. On the committee are W. A. Scully, O. E. Collins and A. E. Hart.

Among those who made rousing speeches in defense of the principles of the party, urging party fealty and work along proper political lines were: Judge Little, Colonel Ginger, Robert Waugh, F. A. Perkins and others. County Chairman Schreiber also made a few remarks showing the work that has been done, and urging those interested to help register the vote next Monday, the last day for registration.

FAIR AT CALHAN WILL END TODAY

With a dance, basketball game, baby show, balloon ascension, horse races, "the big wedding," a parade and music, the big four days' fair of the El Paso County Fair association at Calhan today winds up a most successful event. The boosting which has been a feature of everyone's attendance has immeasurably helped the fair association and exhibitors. Henry Hine of this city loaned his automobile to the county commissioners yesterday, and it went to Calhan and to many other places throughout the county distributing literature on the proposed bond issue to be made by the commissioners for the improvement of the roads. The auto covered 170 miles of territory.

The special train for Calhan will leave here today at 9 a. m., returning at 6:30 p. m.

Grandfather of Waif Is Springs Bank Employe?

A sequel to a probable story of cruelty and desertion has come to the postoffice authorities in this city, in the shape of a letter from Burt C. Wadsworth of 1344 Sixth street, Santa Monica, Cal. Mr. Wadsworth asks for information concerning a man named Bentley, said to have lived in this city a short time ago. After the Bentleys removed to California, he and his wife apparently had trouble, for the family was broken up, and their child, a 1½-year-old girl, was wilfully deserted. That is the story as told by the matron of the home where the child was taken, and she further says that the grandparents of the child still live in this city, and would doubtless take the little girl if the matron could get into touch with them. The grandfather of the girl, on its mother's side, is thought to work in a bank in this city, but his name is not known.

FIFTEEN DAYS

REORGANIZATION SALE

OF

New Fall Merchandise

STARTS TODAY

This extraordinary Fifteen-Day Reorganization Sale which we now announce marks one of the most important bargain events in Colorado Springs. On account of an important change in our business, it is imperative that we reduce our stock immediately several thousand dollars. At the close of this Fifteen-Day Sale an entirely new organization, new management, a new firm with new ideas and new methods will take the place of the old, which you have supported so liberally for the past twelve years, and for which the present management wishes to thank you, one and all. The sole object of this mammoth sale is to reduce the stock at once, so that it can be handled to the advantage of the new firm; and it must not be in any way considered an end of the season sale, for all our new fall stock is placed on sale without reserve, at phenomenal price reductions in every section.

News of Local Courts

Blanche Collins was in police court again yesterday on a charge of violating the hotel solicitors ordinance. She protested and intimated that she was being persecuted, but the court said that too many complaints against her have been received. Her license as a hotel solicitor was revoked for 30 days, and a warning given that if there was further complaint the license would be canceled.

Sam Sinclair was fined $5 and costs in police court yesterday for contempt. A few days ago he was before the magistrate on a charge of being intoxicated, and was given time to raise money to pay his fine. He neglected to pay the fine or to report to the court.

In the case of Charles Gardner vs. E. C. van Diest, tried in Justice Toombs' court yesterday, the court ruled in favor of the defendant. Gardner brought suit to recover $3.50 that was deducted from his pay by van Diest when Gardner's horse broke a scraper tongue belonging to a contractor whom van Diest represents.

George Monroe, a deputy sheriff from Hutchinson, Kan., started east last night with George E. Believing that her divorced husband may be released from state prison, Mrs. Lucy Summerville yesterday appealed to Justice Toombs for protection from Elbert A. Summerville, who is serving an 11-year sentence for a statutory crime. Summerville was sentenced here two years ago. A month ago Mrs. Summerville was granted a divorce and was given the custody of her two children. So far as can be learned, there is no movement on foot to secure Summerville's release.

Magistrate Starrett yesterday informed Janitor Evans at the city hall that municipal employes have no more right to waste water than private citizens. The remark was occasioned by the fact that a hose on the lawn was leaking in several places. Judge Starrett said that the hose must be repaired before he would fine anyone in police court for wasting water.

Football Games on Local Gridirons to Begin Today: Star Players Will Be Protested; Cannitz Quits Pirates

FOOTBALL MAKES FORMAL DEBUT ON MANY FIELDS

Star Players Will Be Protested at Conference

PLAYERS TO BE PROTESTED.

Denver University—Mate Walker.

Colorado University — McFadden, Stocker and Smith.

Miners Slattery, Zioch and Leadbetter.

Colorado College Reed.

When the members of the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic conference meet at the University club this morning they will not only have to wrestle with the question as to what to do about the Denver-Marquette university game, but they will have to decide the eligibility of seven players on the various football elevens against whom charges of ineligibility will be brought.

Walker will be protested on the grounds that he has not received sufficient credits while at high school.

Intermittent attendance is charged against McFadden. In the case of Stocker it is claimed that he has played three years of football and one year of basketball, and is therefore ineligible under the four-year rule.

It will be claimed that Stocker has already played four years. Slattery and Zioch will be challenged on the ground of being absent from school during the last semester. The four-year rule will be brought against Leadbetter. Reed will be charged with failure to attend school last year.

Today's opening game of the season at Washburn field will furnish local fans the first opportunity to get a line on the Colorado College and High School teams. Each eleven has put in a week of hard practice in preparation for today's contest, and the High School squad hopes to hold the Tiger team to a comparatively small score. In any event the new game, with its varied style of play and "open" work should prove a thriller for the spectators and a good early-season crowd is expected to turn out and watch their favorites perform. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Neither Coach Rothgeb nor Coach Coffin has announced his lineup, and it is probable that both sides will use many players. There was a shakeup in the college eleven last night and some of those who have been regarded as first team men may find themselves transferred to the second eleven unless there is a brace in their playing. Quarterback Putman, who has been out of the practice since the second day of the season, was out in football togs last evening, and while he is still not in good shape he is progressing nicely and hopes to be in the lineup next week. In view of the competition for positions on the varsity, it is probable that the Tiger eligibles will play for all they are worth today against the High School, as it is understood that the showing made this afternoon will be taken into consideration when the coach picks his first team players. Up around Washburn field the collegians look for a shutout score. In the Terrors' camp there is a different story going the rounds to the effect that the High School will score at least once.

Outside of the local game, interest today centers largely in the opening championship match to be played in Denver between Wyoming and D. U. Denver, according to reports, does not regard the contest as a very serious one, but Wyoming is in charge of a clever coach who may spring a few surprises on the Ministers and force them to speed up their football machine to keep pace with the visitors. Deprived of the services of two of his best backs, Volk and Schroeder, Coach Kohler of Denver has found it necessary to switch his men around for today's game. Fike, a 200-pounder, has been dropped back of the line and will play at fullback. Quarterback Walker will look after the punting department of the game and with Koonsman and Crowley will form the backfield quartet. In view of the fact that Wyoming will be the attraction against the Tigers at Washburn field a week from today, the outcome of the match in Denver this afternoon will be awaited with much interest here.

At Boulder and at Golden both college elevens will take on teams made up of former football players this afternoon. Both teams expect hard games.

George Wiltse, the famous pitcher of the Giants who outgeneraled the two pitchers the Pittsburgs put in against him at a recent game White and Maddox. It was at the second game of the day and having been trimmed in the first the Pirates were out for gore. But it was their own blood that was shed. Wiltse had often been considered their hoodoo before but the game the Pirates lost 8 to 3, put a crimp in their pennant aspirations that cannot be ironed out.

DRIVERS READY FOR TODAY'S AUTO RACES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 7.—Everything is in readiness for the third annual 200-mile automobile race over the Fairmont park course at noon tomorrow under the auspices of the Quaker City Motor club. If the weather is not propitious at that time a postponement will be made until Monday or possibly until the following Saturday.

Thirty-two of the fastest motor cars in the country, including five of the first nine to finish in last Saturday's Vanderbilt cup race, have entered for tomorrow's event.

The course, 8½ miles through West park, affords unequaled facilities for spectators to view the race in safety. Along the greater part of the course are high sloping banks and 3,000 police will aid the park guards to keep the roads clear during the races. Among the competitors in the recent Vanderbilt cup race who will start are:

Joe Dawson, driving a Marmon, who finished second

John Aitken in a National, who finished third.

Ralph Mulford in a Lozier, who finished fifth.

Ketch Stops Team Near Y. M. C. A.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 7.—Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion, who is resting here preparatory to meeting Jack Johnson, enhanced his popularity as a hero last night by throwing himself before a runaway team. He succeeded in stopping the horses after they had dragged him for half a block.

Ketchel was standing in front of the Y. M. C. A building when a farmer's team and wagon approached at top speed. Timing his course the fighter appeared in the middle of the road and next was aboard the outfit. He was not hurt. Ketchel is a guest of R. H. Dickerson [illegible]

Hugh M'Intosh, Fight Promoter, Plans European Boxing Circuit

LONDON, Oct. 7.—A "boxing circuit," covering the British isles, France and possibly one other continental country, will be conducted this winter by Hugh McIntosh, according to an announcement by Jimmy Britt, who is McIntosh's right-hand man.

Fighters will play the circuit after the manner of vaudeville performers. American fighters will be brought over for the start. "McIntosh houses" will be in London, Liverpool, Manchester, Leeds, Glasgow and Paris. He has leased the annex of the Olympic in London, and the first fight program will be pulled off in December.

In Britt's opinion a future contender against Jack Johnson has been uncovered in Bombardier Wells, who won the first of McIntosh's elimination contests to find "the best white man on earth."

Britt says as soon as Wells puts on more weight he will be a wonderful fighter. "He has brains, natural boxing ability, the speed of a lightweight and a knockout wallop in either hand," is Britt's bouquet for Wells.

His next opponent in the elimination series will be Private Voyles, an Irish fighter, who is considered dangerous.

Jap Billiard Shark Coming to America

CHICAGO, Oct 7.—Word has reached Chicago from abroad telling of a wonderful Jap billiard player. According to Dr. W. G. Douglas of this city, who is now traveling in Europe, the present title holders had better look to their laurels. Dr. Douglas, who has competed in several national billiard tournaments, played against the sensational Jap amateur in Berlin and according to his letter the Nippon cue wielder performed in sensational style.

The Jap's name is Yamada and he made high runs of 157 and 122 in two games against Douglas. In the first game the Jap made an average of 50, and in the second met [illegible] averaged [illegible]

M'Gill Becomes Sole Owner of Denver's Club

DENVER, Oct. 7.—James C. McGill today became sole owner of the Denver baseball club of the Western league by purchasing the half interest held by Secretary J. C. Gunthorpe. The consideration was not made public but it is said to have been $15,000.

President McGill said this afternoon that he had not signed any players for next season.

"I don't propose to sign up a lot of players at Class A salaries and then find that my team is in Class B," he declared.

Manager Hendricks is expected to remain with the team, although he has not signed a contract.

Owner McGill is a nephew of the late George E. Smith, "Pittsburg Phil," well known on the eastern race tracks

AUTO IS WON BY TY COBB

On the assumption that the batting averages of Ty Cobb and Larry Lajoie, sent out from Cleveland on Thursday, are correct, and that they will remain unchanged by the averages to be compiled later by official figures, Cobb is the winner of the prize automobile offered to the leading batter in the American or National league.

The Detroit star increased his lead one point yesterday, and his standing is now .383, as against Lajoie's .376. Cobb could not be passed by the Clevelander, even though the latter should bat in perfect form in the remaining games today and tomorrow, and Cobb should get only one safety in the two games.

Lajoie's average is the same as that published in The Gazette yesterday morning, as Cleveland did not play yesterday. The standing of the two to date is as follows:

Cobb	140	506	106	194	.383

ATTELL OUTCLASSES WHITE OF CHICAGO

MILWAUKEE, Oct 7.—Abe Attell, the champion featherweight, outpointed Frankie White of Chicago at almost every stage of a 10-round no-decision bout before the Badger Athletic club here tonight.

From the top of the bell in the first round, Attell seemed able to plant blows wherever he pleased and only in a few instances was the Chicago lad able to make a momentary showing.

A decision was not necessary, even if the law permitted one, as it was the unanimous opinion of fight fans that Attell was an easy winner. The boys fought at 130 pounds

FLETCHER IS SUED

CINCINNATI, Oct 7. — D. A. Fletcher, who is said to be at the head of a movement to organize a new baseball league in opposition to the National and American leagues, was today sued in a magistrate's court for $102. The suit was brought by Warrener brothers, printers, who declared Fletcher owed the firm that amount for goods sold to him a year ago. Simon Roth, Jr., who filed the suit for the firm, said Fletcher had stated he did not have enough money to meet the bill.

WILL REVIVE BOXING

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—Boxing will be revived in Los Angeles on November 15, when Abe Attell and Frankie Conley meet at Jeffries' old Vernon arena, now under the management of Tom McCarey. Vernon being an incorporated town, the antiboxing ordinance passed in the city of Los Angeles does not apply. The bout scheduled is for 15 rounds. McCarey is trying to match Wolgast and Moran for Thanksgiving day.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The National baseball commission in a decision announced today held that the complaint of Player Hulswitt against the St Louis National league club for 25 days' extra pay was valid and directed the club to pay. It held that if a major league club released a player in the playing season to a minor league club it is the duty of the latter to accept the player's services at once and not require him to lie idle until the following season.

HOW THE WORLD'S SERIES FLINGERS WILL STACK UP

By BILL BAILEY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Every time that you meet a man who has an idea that the Athletics will down the Cubs in the world's series, he mentions Connie Mack's pitching staff. He does more than mention it. He attempts to drive it home that the twirlers under the command of Connie Mack are the best in either league and that it will be the inability of the Cubs to hit the benders that will prove their undoing.

That is the Athletics' side of the story.

Then the Cub partisan comes right back with the statement that, when it comes to blasting hopes and wrecking batting averages in the world's series, Chance has a bunch of twirlers who cannot be beaten.

That's the Cub side of the tale.

And there you are. Everybody is agreed that the series this fall will be a battle of pitchers. In fact the pitching staff of Connie Mack seems his hope. And since the pitchers are bound to prove such an important factor in this series, what more right and just than that they should receive some consideration and space?

So here goes.

Beginning with the first day. The chances are that Overall will represent the Cubs on the mound in the [illegible] That cannot be said [illegible] the series [illegible] Something might [illegible] fellow before the opening day. But it looks right now as if Overall would do the twirling. And the chances are that Jack Coombs will be on the mound for the Athletics. If it isn't Coombs, it will be Bender. But the former has the call.

Comparisons of Men Who Will Meet Next Week

Great Pinch Pitcher.

There is a bit of superstition connected with the sending of Overall to the mound. Chance believes that he is one of the greatest men who ever stepped upon the slab in a post-season series. That belief dates way back to 1906, when the White Sox won the world's championship, but did not give Overall a trimming. The big fellow was used in the last two games of the series. He was sent in after the games were lost, so the fact that he stopped the White Sox cold helped his teammates none. But against the Tigers in the following two years, and against the White Sox last fall he was a whale.

Coombs and Overall depend a great deal upon the same thing—speed. Both also have a quick-breaking curve ball that means a tough time for the batters if the pitchers happen to be going right. Both are veterans. Coombs, however, has had the better season. He has won 28 games and lost but seven. Overall has not pitched nearly as often. He went out of the game for the greater part of the year, and now has a record of 11 won and five lost. Not so bad after all.

Brown and Bender Next.

Brown and Bender are very likely to pitch the second game. And here is another battle. Mordecai has not been as effective this year as in the years gone by. He was away to a bad start, however, and this had a great deal to do with his showing. It must not be surmised that he has had a bad year. He has won 19 games and lost 12. In addition, he has been in many others. Bender, on the other hand, has a wonderful record for the year. He has won 22 and lost five

When it comes to a comparison of these two men in a game in the world's series something more than the figures should be taken into account.

Brown can go through a game on less than almost any man in the business. When it comes to employing the arts of the slab star he is a past master. When he gets in a position where nothing save downright nerve can save him he is present. The crowd at a world's series game is nothing to him. There is absolutely no situation where he is likely to lose his head. If he is beaten it will be because he has "nothing"—because the Athletics hammer him.

Has It on the Indian.

Bender is not built that way. Nobody is questioning his courage. But he is scarcely the brainy pitcher that the Chicago man is. And by that it is not meant that he doesn't play baseball with his head. But Brown has the master baseball mind

That Bender is likely to show well is proved by his record in the series between the New York Giants and Athletics.

The pitchers in the third game will probably be Cole and Plank. Or they may pitch the second or even the first and the others pitch in the second and the third. The exact games in which these men will pitch cannot be foretold. But it is more likely that they will meet in the third.

Here will be the youngest and the veteran.

For Cole is just of age, while Plank is one of the veterans of his team. Should the series stand one and one and Cole and Plank should be announced as the pitchers, the chances are that the Chicago fans would be willing to give odds on the youth. That is how well he is thought of by the west side fans

Chance Has Confidence

Young Cole should be a whale. About the only thing that could be suggested against him was his lack of experience. You know baseball managers do not like to send a young fellow after an important game. Afraid the crowd will get on his nerves. Chance does not believe that Cole will be so affected. And the game he pitched against the Pirates on the Sunday afternoon that he whiffed Wagner twice would indicate as much. It would be pretty difficult to get a larger crowd in the West Side park than was there on that day, and Cole showed no sign of suffering from stage fright.

The game Plank pitches against the Cubs sure will attract a lot of attention, for there are managers in both leagues who are absolutely certain that a good left hander can trounce them.

HOWARD CAMNITZ,

Who Has Quit the Pittsburg Club After Telling Barney Dreyfuss That Hans Wagner and Tommy Leach Will Not Be Seen in Pirate Uniforms Next Year Camnitz Insists That Fletcher's New League Is Assured.

Camnitz, Star Pirate, Declares Players Will Jump Old League

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct 7.—Before leaving for his home in Hopkinsville, Ky., Pitcher Howard Camnitz, in the presence of his father and a group of newspaper representatives formally notified President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburg baseball club that he had pitched his last game for the Pirates and that he and Tommy Leach and Honus Wagner next season would appear here for the new third big league being organized. He paid his respects to Dreyfuss in unmeasured terms

Camnitz had been a sick man for the past 10 days, suffering from an attack of bronchitis. His departure on the train last night was against the orders of his physician as well as the physician of the baseball club. He told the group however, that he was unable longer to remain in the same town as Dreyfuss not only on account of the general manner in which he had treated Camnitz and his team mates, but also for his taking advantage of a [illegible] clause in the contract signed by Camnitz three weeks after the opening of the season this year by which Camnitz was docked $1[illegible]

It was just before leaving his hotel that he, having disregarded the orders of the physicians and the wish of his own father, as to returning home, notified the newspaper representatives that he wanted them to witness his conversation with Dreyfuss. Calling him on the phone, he then formally announced to the club president that he would never appear again in a Pirate uniform

"You have treated us boys worse than dogs and taken every opportunity to humiliate us. Now our turn has come. Neither I nor Wagner nor Leach will help you bring any more money into Forbes field, or any other club with which you are connected."

Camnitz then briefly stated that the new league was an assured fact, and repeated that he and Leach and Wagner would be members of the team to be located here while other members of the present Pittsburg team would be playing in other towns that had been selected. He said that among the towns where the Fletcher league would be represented are St Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, New York and two western towns the names of which he did not know. He stated that all the capital had been subscribed, as much local subscription from each of the eight towns while the remainder came from Philadelphia and New York. He stated that in each of the towns named options had been had for some time on good sites for ball parks and that in nearly every instance matters had been so far advanced that the new league would be in operation at the opening of the 1911 season

NEW YORK TEAMS SET DATES FOR TITLE GAMES

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The series of post-season games to be played under the auspices of the National Commission between the local National and American league teams, will start Thursday, October 13, at the Polo grounds and games will be played daily excepting Sunday, alternating at the two parks until one team has won four contests

Should a seventh game be necessary the place and date will be decided by the toss of a coin

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1910.

THE LARGEST CITIES.

THE latest Census bulletin, dated September 30, contains a variety of interesting information. Tabulation of the count made last April is by no means finished, but it has gone far enough to show, among other things, the relative rank and population of the eight largest cities in the country, each of which has more than a half million people. They are:

New York	4,766,883
Chicago	2,185,283
Philadelphia	1,549,008
St. Louis	687,029
Boston	670,585
Cleveland	560,662
Baltimore	558,485
Pittsburg	533,905

There has been no change in the rank of the five largest cities in the last twenty years, but Cleveland, which stood seventh in 1900 and ninth in 1890, has now advanced to sixth place. Baltimore, which ranked sixth both in 1900 and 1890, has now dropped to seventh place. The greatest advance in this table has been made by Pittsburg, which was eleventh in 1900 and twelfth in 1890, but is now eighth. However, this is largely due to the annexation of Allegheny City.

One of the odd facts shown by the Census is that eight of the most important cities of the country have shown approximately the same rate of increase in the last decade. These are: New Orleans, 18.1 per cent; Pittsburg, 18.3; Washington, 18.3; St. Louis, 19.4; Paterson, 19.4; Boston, 19.6; Philadelphia, 19.7; and Buffalo, 20.2.

The ten largest cities in the world, the list of which embraces three American cities, are given as follows:

London	7,429,740
New York	4,766,883
Paris	2,763,393
Tokio	2,186,079
Chicago	2,185,283
Berlin	2,101,932
Vienna	2,085,585
St. Petersburg	1,678,030
Philadelphia	1,549,008
Moscow	1,359,964

FIGURES THAT DON'T LIE.

It must be a source of considerable humiliation to Chicago to learn that it is beaten for fourth place in the list of the world's largest cities by Tokio by the narrow margin of 796. However, the Tokio census was taken two years ago and that of Chicago only last Spring, so if the two cities are growing at an equal rate the Japanese are probably still in the lead. At any rate Chicago has the satisfaction of knowing that the long-standing dispute as to whether it is bigger than Berlin is settled in its favor with a margin of about 84,000 to the good.

In the rapidity of its growth Oklahoma City carries off the palm, having increased in ten years from 10,037 to 64,205, a gain of 539.7 per cent. This is the highest percentage of increase announced up to September 30, and it is not likely to be exceeded by any rival. But another town in Oklahoma, Muskogee, has done almost as well, its present population being 25,278, a gain of 494.2 per cent. The other highest percentages in the order named are Birmingham, Ala., 245.4; Flint, Mich., 194.2; Fort Worth, 174.7; Schenectady, 129.9; Dallas, 116; Waterloo, Ia., 112.2; East St. Louis, 97.4; Passaic, N. J., 97.2; New Rochelle, N. Y., 96.1; Portsmouth, Va., 90.5.

In a list of 107 cities of between 25,000 and 100,000 population the average percentage of increase is 39.8. Colorado Springs' percentage in the last decade is 37.9, so when we remember that we have grown almost as fast as the average rate of these 107 cities we have reason to be satisfied—if a city is ever satisfied with its rate of growth.

BIG PRIZES FOR AVIATORS.

WE are still a long way from the time when aeroplane flights will be so commonplace as not to excite public interest, nevertheless they are so frequent and the aviators are so uniformly successful in doing what they start out to do that it is a little hard to understand why anybody should care to pay a small fortune as a reward for one flight. During the last year this form of enterprise has enlisted the sympathies of various metropolitan newspapers in America and abroad and has provided scarcely enough excitement to make it worth while, for in every case some venturesome manbird has won the prize in the very first attempt.

Lord Northcliffe started it by offering $50,000 for a flight from London to Manchester, and the terms had scarcely been made public before the prize was won. Then a New York paper rewarded Curtiss handsomely for a flight from Albany to New York. The New York Times followed suit by giving Hamilton its check $10,000 we believe was the sum for flying from New York to Philadelphia. Only last week Walter Brookins won $10,000 from The Chicago Record-Herald for an aerial journey from the Windy City to Springfield, Ill., and today an attempt is to be made to win the prize of $50,000 offered by The Chicago Evening Post and The New York Times for a flight between Chicago and New York.

Doubtless this is good advertising for the newspaper that puts up the money but it would seem rather expensive. Aviation has become so safe and certain that the element of chance in making such a flight is almost lacking. Curtiss, Hamilton, Brookins and other men of their profession are as much at home in the air as a locomotive engineer is in his cab. When they start on a flight it is almost a certainty that they will accomplish the end in view, especially when somebody stands ready to hand over a ten-thousand dollar check for doing it. The profession of aviation is so enormously profitable that it is in danger of becoming overcrowded, which will doubtless be a good thing for the public, for it will mean that every county fair will soon have an aeroplane race as one of its side attractions.

YOUNG MAN'S CANDIDATE.

From the Grand Junction News.

Every young voter and especially every young man in the state will take pleasure in casting a vote for Ben Griffith for attorney general. He is the youngest man on the state ticket, a college graduate from Colorado College and the best type of the young western man. His absolute freedom from corporation domination, his honesty and his sterling character, which even his most rabid political enemies take pleasure in acknowledging, will make him one of the leading figures in the campaign. He will have a majority of 3,000 in Mesa county.

WHO IS RIGHT?

From the North Fork Times, Hotchkiss, Colo.

The Colorado Springs Gazette says popular government scored a notable victory in the Republican state convention when the amendment to the majority report of the platform committee was passed by a vote of 598 to 372. The Denver Republican says: The virus of insurgency entered the Republican party when the amendment submitting the initative and referendum was adopted. Which is right? The Republican also says: The ticket that was nominated with Stephen is exceedingly strong; one of the best balanced tickets that ever went before the people for their suffrages. John B. Stephen, the nominee for governor before the convention said he was in favor of the initiative and referendum. Will the Republican support the ticket?

THE SPITTING NUISANCE.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

According to a report of the directors of the organization, a determined attempt on the part of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis to abate the spitting menace is to be made. Inspectors are to be appointed, it is said, who will watch the violations of the ordinance prohibiting expectorating in public conveyances, buildings and on the sidewalks. This ordinance was passed through the efforts of the society and, although it has been in effect for a number of years, it has thus far practically proved a dead letter. That the prohibition is a wise one and of the greatest interest in conserving health cannot be doubted. The spitting habit is one of the most detestable in itself from the standpoint of cleanliness, and as a means of spreading disease germs it has few peers. It is gratifying to note that the society intends to enforce the ordinance, and it is to be hoped that it will receive the support of the magistracy of the city when arrests for such offenses are made.

ANOTHER CANAL SLIDE.

From the Washington Star.

Another big slide in the Culebra cut of the Panama canal is reported as having occurred on the night of September 16, a mass of earth and rock estimated at 500,000 cubic yards moving down the mountain side. No apprehension should be felt on this score for the successful completion of the work of digging an interoceanic waterway. These slides have occurred before and will undoubtedly occur again as the cut through the mountains is deepened and the sloping walls are weakened by repeated blasts of dynamite and by the wash of heavy rains. The work of removing the earth and rock thus precipitated into the canal bed will add to the expense of the enterprise and somewhat delay its completion, but the engineers reckon these mishaps as incidental to their task of cutting through the mountain wall. Ultimately all of the material that can be freed will have slid down and been removed. There is no probability that when the canal has been opened it will be blocked by any such mishap as each slide has taught a lesson that is being applied to render the canal safe in all conditions of the climate. Compared with the entire work, the prosecution of which has been an object of universal admiration, such misfortunes as the falling of half a million yards of earth and rock into the cut must be regarded as of small importance.

SOME BASEBALL THOUGHTS.

From the Topeka State Journal.

With a pennant-winning major league baseball team in its midst, Philadelphia's reputation for slowness is beginning to fade away.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

How great it must be to have a baseball team the town is really interested in.

From the New York Evening Mail.

When this season's pennant is planted and the box scores twisted and pied; when the oldest fan has ceased telling the runner on second to slide; we shall rest, and faith we shall need it, but the rest will be short, we fear; for November brings the clairvoyant stuff of who's going to cop next year.

From the Charleston News and Courier.

It will be noted that Tyrus Cobb, Jackson and other famous baseball players are native Carolinians.

From the Newark Star.

Might have seen the Eastern League pennant wave here if if—but what's the use?

LEADING OR BOSSING?

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The press of the country shows a decided disposition to welcome Theodore Roosevelt into the confraternity of bosses. Some of this is intended to be vitriolic, some is inspired by the humor in the case of a man who set out for the defeat of the bosses demonstrating his victory by running a convention by word of command.

Of course the truth of the epithet depends upon the definition. If a successful leader at the height of leadership is a boss then Roosevelt is today Republican boss of New York. But we think the case indicates the distinction between a leader and a boss. A boss is in one respect something more than a leader, and the addition is of obnoxious nature. A boss in the general use of the term, implies one who has such control of the party machinery as to ignore popular opinion while dictating political action, while Roosevelt's leadership is based on his success in appealing to the popular spirit. A boss too is generally perhaps always in politics for selfish and sordid aims. A true leader may have personal ambitions but they are predicated on success in serving the public interest.

YOUTHFUL ANARCHISTS.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The latest illustration of the [illegible] example is followed is furnished by the high school class at Bayonne, N. J., where the pupils, fired by the ambition to emulate the West Point cadets, have given their teachers the silent cross to answer the questions of their pupils and defying the school authorities to make [illegible] their request that the hours for school be shortened as they would have more time for athletics and dancing was refused.

Whatever may be the cause for the delay of the Washington authorities in taking action in the military academy case, there are no complications, real or imaginary, to prevent prompt and effective action at Bayonne. The parents of these young hopefuls or failing parental performance or duty the school authorities should at once apply the obvious remedies for disobedience and contempt of authority. If the hairbrush or the woodshed treatments are not resorted to by the parents, the board of education might arrange for proper application by a competent person.

The school strikes and "silences" and other too frequent manifestations of youthful disregard for authority call for more strenuous repression than seems to prevail in modern educational methods. Moral suasion implies a susceptibility to reason on the part of the subject, but these young anarchists are presumably beyond being reasoned with except by the primitive means of making the point painfully apparent to them. Bayonne, at the same time, has an excellent opportunity to show the West Point authorities just what to do for insubordination in that institution. It should not neglect it.

I am living in the stable with the horses and the cow, and my heart is full of sorrow and of hay; and I cannot have communion with my loved and loving frau, for she's busy canning peaches every day. O, she's busy canning peaches, you can hear her frenzied screeches, as she seals and puts the clammy thing away. I am living on bologna and the cheaper grades of slaw, and I patronize the hydrant when I'm dry. I am full of chaff and thistles, for I slumber in the straw, and I often wake the horses when I cry. For my wife is canning peaches, but experience it teaches that her mind will be recovered by and by. O my wife is canning peaches and the house is full of steam, and the neighbor women gaze do the same; you can see them in their kitchens, you can hear them prance and scream, and their peaches are not worth a tinker's blame. Still the wives are canning peaches with a zeal that overreaches, and their husbands are disgusted with the game. It is sad that lovely woman should go batty every year when the frost is on the pumpkin and the glow; it is sad to see her raging with her topknot on her ear, and the juice of moldy peaches on her brow. Once a year she's canning peaches, while her husband sits and perches in the stable, to the horses and the cow!

The Daily Chit-Chat

LETTERS OF A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS WOMAN TO HER NIECE.

Dear Niece Joan: A girl in an office near mine has just lost a corking good position because she didn't realize that a business office wasn't either a ball beat or an afternoon tea.

The man she worked for has half a dozen stenographers and is very proud of the good tone of his office force. They are an exceptional crew of sensible and refined young business women, and he takes almost as much pride in their good manners and sensible clothes as he does in their work.

This girl was different. She was a good worker, too good at punctuation and spelling, and a neat and accurate stenographer—but there was one thing she didn't know the A, B, C of, and that was how to dress in a business office.

One day she would appear in a Lombardy blouse with a smashing red sailor's tie, the next she'd wear an alarmingly peekaboo waist with a very Dutch neck and a flirtatious showing of blue ribbon underneath, and the day she'd be togged out in a half-soiled afternoon dress, for she was the kind of girl who thinks wornout finery belongs in the kitchen and the office.

Then, of course, she'd always wear the trimmings to match—low-cut pumps and gossamer stockings, white gloves, big showy hats, fancy neck chains that would get caught in her typewriter and all that sort of thing.

The employer stood it for awhile. He thought the sight of the six other girls, who always looked both charming and businesslike in regular business get-ups, tailored suits and finishings to match, would soon tone her down.

When it didn't he mildly suggested a more appropriate form of costume and she was vastly insulted and left in a huff.

Now, niece, of course I know that you aren't that kind; but it won't do you any harm to be reminded to keep good and plenty away from it.

That man was exceptionally fussy, I know but I've heard a good many business men talk, and I know that, while they may flatter the overdressed girl about looking pretty, they really admire and approve of the woman who dresses in a businesslike way for business.

Don't worry about looking dowdy.

Most women look about as well in a well-built tailored suit and well-fitted tailored waist, or simple blouse, as they ever do.

There is a girl who goes in on the same train I do in the mornings, who always wears a navy blue tailored suit, a white shirtwaist, and a stock of the latest style, and always has fresh-looking gloves and perfectly kept shoes.

I have heard a dozen men admire that girl's appearance.

Oh, by the way, that sample of fawn colored corduroy with braiding to match that you sent me as a suggestion for a winter suit is awfully pretty, but do you think it looks exactly businesslike?

Now, don't be crave with me, will you, Joan? Just say, it's only my hardheadish, but softhearted, Old Aunt.

RUTH CAMERON.

Daysey Mayme Is Guest at a Wedding

"These New Yorkers," wrote Daysey Mayme Appleton to her sister, "talk a great deal about their ancestral halls, but I went to a wedding the other night, and I found their ancestral halls are so narrow the bride and groom had to walk tandem.

"The wedding was in a series of bandboxes called an apartment, and when the girl played the wedding march everyone else had to get out of the bandbox called the music room to make room for her elbows.

There was a table in one room at which a girl served slabs of ice cream, and as I wanted to give you an accurate account of all that happened, I got down on the floor to see what she wore. There was no other ways as none of her dress appeared above the table. I wore a dress with a train and everyone looked so reproachfully at me because I took up so much room that I had to stand where I could throw the train down the dumbwaiter. Every other woman there wore a tube gown, and now I understand why the tube gown is so fashionable. These rooms in New York's ancestral homes are so small a man couldn't raise his family and a six-gored skirt in the same house.

The bride tried to live up to the traditions, and, as there was no stairway from which to throw her bouquet to the girls below, she climbed up the fire escape and threw it to the girls on the paving in the court below, and I know you will be proud to learn that the football tactics that have so often brought me the biggest bargains at a bargain sale were just as effective at a wedding, for I rushed through that crowd knocking the girls down with the dimples in my elbows and got the prize.

When the bride left her bear cub home there were no tears, there being no elbow room for wiping them away if anyone had been weak enough to shed them.

Then Daysey Mayme, having finished her letter, put on her robbie skirt and walking hat, went out to question [illegible] and tied her dog to the other end of a string and went for a shuffle.

A CARPET BAG IN LIBERTY'S CROWN

From the New York Evening Sun.

On Labor day of this year there appeared in the holiday crowd of recently arrived immigrants and of bucolic visitors who still surge upon such festivities up the winding stair within the Statue of Liberty a foreign youth with a small waxed mustache and a Baedeker hugged under one arm. In the grip of his right hand he carried a large carpet bag marked clearly L. von M., Munich.

Panting, but heroically determined, Herr L. von M. of Munich climbed after the crowd, up and still up, higher and then higher yet. At last the end came, a relieved assistant beheld him reach the top without fainting beneath his load. Did he fling himself down to rest? Not he. Did he turn his attention to the view of the harbor and city? Most certainly not. With no waste of time he sought out the descending stairs and made his way quickly down and out to the ferry, still tugging the carpet bag, probably the only article of its kind that has ever ascended all the way to the statue's crown.

HOISTING ORE ON THE UNCLE SAM PROPERTY

Good Talc Vein Encountered Other District Mines Making Fair Shipments.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 7.—The Uncle Sam Gold Mining company yesterday morning steamed up the plant installed at the No. 3 shaft on the Last Dollar Gold Mining company's Bull hill estate, and today commenced to hoist ore. At the bottom level of the incline shaft, now retimbered, a talc vein, 18 inches wide, had been encountered previous to the fire, and this ore has shown values by assay test of 12 ounces gold to the ton. The talc streak is 22 inches wide and the quartz on either side will, it is expected, make milling grade ore.

The same lease operating company—the Uncle Sam—holds a lease on the Camilla mine on Guyot hill, owned by the El Paso Extension Gold Mining company. In sinking the shaft on this property a flat vein, about two feet thick fills the bottom of the shaft, and the values obtaining range from $6 to $8 a ton. This ore body will be developed when the shaft is sunk deeper.

Three-Car Shipment.

A three-car shipment is being loaded out from the Conundrum mine on the western slope of Gold hill. Teams have been ordered to the mine to complete the shipment tomorrow. The ore mined by Millar and Carnduff, the lessees, is of about $30 grade.

New Boston Shipping.

Dworak and Mackey, lessees on block 169 of the Stratton estate, on the New Boston lode mining claim on Womack hill, are loading out a 20-ton shipment of screenings this morning. The ore, it is estimated, is of better than two-ounce grade.

A Test Shipment.

Three wagon loads of ore—about 18 tons—was loaded out from the Paddock and company lease on the south end of the Little Joe mine on Bull hill yesterday to be sampled at one of the local plants. The ore mined at depth of about 240 feet, is estimated at about two ounces gold to the ton. Should these values obtain, the mine will be operated on a more extensive scale.

REQUIREMENTS CROP MOVEMENT UNFILLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. Speculation lapsed into apathy today and prices vibrated within a narrowing range. There was an appearance of strength at times, but the effort to advance the prominent speculative stocks met with the same kind of obstacle in the form of free selling as earlier in the week. The strength of the copper industrials was evidently based on advance knowledge of the character of the monthly report of the copper producers association. As soon as that was published the advance in the coppers also came to a halt and the whole market fell into stagnation.

A reduction of 20,000,000 pounds in the stocks of copper on hand made an imposing showing on its face, but some disappointment was felt over the manner in which that result had been achieved, as shown by the details of the report. Deliveries into domestic consumption, in fact, showed a moderate falling off from the August total, the increase in total deliveries being wholly due to an expansion of upwards of 15,000,000 pounds in the month's exports.

Preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement indicated an outflow of nearly $4,000,000 cash from New York.

The loss to the subtreasury for the week was reduced to less than a million dollars but shipments to the interior by express rose considerably over those of last week.

The requirements of the crop movement thus far are shown to be unsatisfied. This showing is held to explain the cautious attitude maintained by the banks in putting out fresh credits during the week.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,969,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHOPPY TRADE AND LITTLE INVESTMENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Each decline brought fresh support today in the wheat market here. It was noticeable, however, that the buying did not follow the advance very far, and the choppy trade that resulted was not conducive to investment. The close was steady and showed a net gain of ⅛c to ⅜c.

Final sales of corn were ⅜c to ⅝@½c lower than last night; oats, ⅛c up to ⅛c off, and hog products cheaper by 12½c to 22½c.

The buying temper in the wheat pit was pronounced in the full knowledge, too, that there had only been an advance of 1½c in a week at Buenos Ayres. An effort had been made to show by the comparison of prices that the drought was proving more of a sensation at a distance than near at hand. The effect though was more than offset by cablegrams to firms asserting that damage had been done, and implying that more would result if the absence of rain continued. On the other hand, general news was all bearish. Stocks in this country piled up rapidly and world shipments were expected to be virtually 2,000,000 bushels, heavier than a year ago. December ranged between 97⅞@98⅜c, finishing ⅛@⅜c up at 98½c.

Fine weather, huge shipments from Argentina and lower cables caused selling sentiment in corn. December varied from 49½c to 49½c, and closed at 49⅜@49⅝c, with the tone steady, but at a net decline of ⅜c. The cash market was weaker. No. 2 yellow closed at 52@52½c.

Covering by a number of large shorts steadied oats. December fluctuated between 32½@32⅝c and 33c, closing unchanged from last night at 32¾c.

Provisions seemed stripped of support. Latest figures for pork were down 17½c to 20c, lard, 12½c, and ribs, 12½c to 22½c.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Says a Colorado Springs Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information.

When your back gives out,
Becomes lame, weak or aching,
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Here is local evidence to prove it:

Mrs. John Hill, 1203 Grant street, Colorado Springs, Colo., says, "I have nothing to retract from the public statement I gave in December, 1906, regarding my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me wonderfully at that time and I hold just as high an opinion of them now as when I first spoke in their favor. I had a burning sensation in my back and sufferod greatly from pains through my loins. My limbs often became badly swollen and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Friends told me that these were symptoms of kidney complaint and being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply at the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co. The contents of one box made a decided improvement and I continued taking this remedy until my trouble had been driven away. My willingness to again recommend Doan's Kidney Pills is due to the fact that my cure has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Lord Northcliffe, the most powerful journalist in England, who recently sailed for London. He had some interesting comments to make before departing from this country. He said that the present political upheavals in the United States indicated that Americans were coming to realize the folly of party pride. "Americans are far behind the English in their political development," he said, "in England we have no parties, in the American sense of the word. Hitherto the political evolution of the United States has closely followed that of England. Most of the problems with which you are now struggling we solved long ago. For example, the child labor question in England was disposed of in the earlier half of the last century. The disruption of historical parties is an old story with us."

HUMORS OF THE CENSUS

From Harper's Weekly

That the divorce question met with considerable trouble in other sections of the country as well as in the east is evident from several other stories that reached the ears of the metropolitan census-takers. There was a woman in Omaha, Neb., for instance, who flatly refused to commit herself one way or the another on the question, and who only complied with the enumerator's request when threatened with arrest. Then, to the surprise of the census man, she said she had not only never been divorced, but never married. Her rebellion against the question consequently puzzled the census man greatly until he learned that the woman, who had come to town only recently, had been posing in the community as a divorcee with a large alimony income for the evident purpose of obtaining credit on a considerable scale from the local merchants. A second story has to do with a woman named Allison of St. Louis who was actually taken to the police station before she was made to realize the necessity of complying with the census laws. "What's the trouble?" asked the sergeant. "She won't tell whether or not she has been divorced," came the complaint. "You must answer all the questions," was the command. "Well, then," said the woman, "I was divorced a year ago but as my husband and I are thinking of making up again soon I don't see why I have to be labelled as a divorcee. I hate the sound of it." The third story comes from Toledo, where a woman told the census man that if he failed to chronicle the fact that she had been allowed the custody of the children and that her husband was a brute she would see to it that he "lost his job."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Notice is hereby given, that at the General Election to be held on the eighth day of November, A. D. 1910, there will be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Colorado the question of amending the Constitution of said State.

The authority for submitting such question is found in House Bill No. 6 of the Extraordinary Session of the Seventeenth General Assembly, which is, in words and figures, following, viz:

AN ACT

TO SUBMIT TO THE QUALIFIED VOTERS OF THE STATE OF COLORADO AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION 1 OF ARTICLE V OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF COLORADO, PROVIDING FOR THE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado.

Section 1. There shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Colorado, at the next general election for members of the General Assembly for their approval or rejection the following constitutional amendment, which, when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon, shall be valid as part of the Constitution.

Section 2. That Section 1 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Colorado be so amended as to read as follows:

Section 1 The legislative power of the State shall be vested in the General Assembly consisting of a Senate and House of Representatives, both to be elected by the people, but the people reserve to themselves the power to propose laws and amendments to the Constitution and to enact or reject the same at the polls independent of the General Assembly, and also reserve power at their own option to approve or reject at the polls any act, item, section or part of any act of the General Assembly.

The first power hereby reserved by the people is the INITIATIVE, and at least eight per cent. of the legal voters shall be required to propose any measure by petition, and every such petition shall include the full text of the measure so proposed. Initiative petitions for State legislation and amendments to the Constitution, shall be addressed to and filed with the Secretary of State at least four months before the election at which they are to be voted upon.

The second power hereby reserved is the REFERENDUM, and it may be ordered, except as to laws necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, and appropriations for the support and maintenance of the department of state and state institutions, against any act, section or part of any act of the General Assembly, either by a petition signed by five per cent. of the legal voters or by the General Assembly. Referendum petitions shall be addressed to and filed with the Secretary of State not more than ninety days after the final adjournment of the session of the General Assembly, that passed the bill on which the referendum is demanded. The filing of a referendum petition against any item, section or part of any act, shall not delay the remainder of the act from becoming operative. The veto power of the Governor shall not extend to measures initiated by, or referred to the people. All elections on measures referred to the people of the State shall be held at the biennial regular general election, and all such measures shall become the law or a part of the Constitution, when approved by a majority of the votes cast thereon, and not otherwise, and shall take effect from and after the date of the official declaration of the vote thereon by proclamation of the Governor, but not later than thirty days after the vote has been canvassed. This section shall not be construed to deprive the General Assembly of the right to enact any measure. The whole number of votes cast for Secretary of State at the regular general election last preceding the filing of any petition for the initiative or referendum shall be the basis on which the number of legal voters necessary to sign such petition shall be counted.

The Secretary of State shall submit all measures initiated by or referred to the people for adoption or rejection at the polls, in compliance herewith. The petition shall consist of sheets having such general form printed or written at the top thereof as shall be designated or prescribed by the Secretary of State; such petition shall be signed by qualified electors in their own proper persons only, to which shall be attached the residence address of such person and the date of signing the same. To each of such petitions, which may consist of one or more sheets, shall be attached an affidavit of some qualified elector, that each signature thereon is the signature of the person whose name it purports to be, and that to the best of the knowledge and belief of the affiant, each of the persons signing said petition was at the time of signing, a qualified elector. Such petition so verified shall be prima facie evidence that the signatures thereon are genuine and true and that the persons signing the same are qualified electors. The text of all measures to be submitted shall be published as constitutional amendments are published, and in submitting the same and in all matters pertaining to the form of all petitions the Secretary of State and all other officers shall be guided by the general laws, and the act submitting this amendment, until legislation shall be especially provided therefor.

The style of all laws adopted by the people through the initiative shall be, "Be it Enacted by the People of the State of Colorado."

The initiative and referendum powers reserved to the people by this section are hereby further reserved to the legal voters of every city town and municipality as to all local, special and municipal legislation of every character in or for their respective municipalities. The manner of exercising said powers shall be prescribed by general laws, except that cities, towns and municipalities may provide for the manner of exercising the initiative and referendum powers as to their municipal legislation. Not more than ten per cent. of the legal voters may be required to order the referendum, nor more than fifteen per cent. to propose any measure by the initiative in any city, town or municipality.

This section of the Constitution shall be in all respects self-executing.

Section 3. Each elector voting at said election and desirous of voting for or against this amendment shall deposit in the ballot box a ticket whereon shall be printed or written the words, "For the amendment to Section one of Article V of the Constitution providing for the initiative and referendum," and "Against the amendment to Section one of Article V of the Constitution providing for the initiative and referendum," and shall indicate his or her approval or rejection of the proposition by placing a cross (X) after one of such sentences. The vote cast for the adoption or rejection of said amendment shall be canvassed and the result determined in the manner provided by the laws of the State of Colorado for the canvass of votes for Representative in Congress.

Section 4. In the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists therefore, this act shall take effect on and after its passage.

APPROVED, September 2nd, 1910.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the State of Colorado, at the City of Denver, this 29th day of September, A. D. 1910.

JAMES B. PEARCE,
(SEAL) Secretary of State.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Notice is hereby given, that at the General Election to be held on the eighth day of November, A. D. 1910, there will be submitted to the qualified electors of the State of Colorado the question of amending the Constitution of said State.

The authority for submitting such question is found in Senate Bill No. 34 of the Seventeenth General Assembly, which is, in words and figures, following, viz.:

AN ACT

TO SUBMIT TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE STATE OF COLORADO AN AMENDMENT TO SECTION THREE (3) OF ARTICLE ELEVEN (XI) OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF COLORADO, TO PROVIDE FOR THE CREATION OF A BONDED INDEBTEDNESS ON BEHALF OF THE STATE TO AN AMOUNT NOT EXCEEDING TWO MILLION, ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS, FOR THE PURPOSE OF FUNDING OUTSTANDING WARRANTS OF THE STATE, AND TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUE AND PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS.

Section 1. WHEREAS, it appears from the register of warrants in the office of the state auditor and of the state treasurer that warrants of the State of Colorado were duly issued during and prior to the year 1897 for the aggregate sum of Eight Hundred and Seventy-three Thousand and Seventy-one Dollars and Eighty-four cents $(873,071.84), and are still outstanding and unpaid, as follows:

Warrants for the year 1887 and prior	$120,776.71
Warrants for the year 1888	277,556.65
Warrants for the year 1889	448,797.54
Warrants for the year 1892	5,767.30
Warrants for the year 1893	6,002.53
Warrants for the year 1894	12,316.73
Warrants for the year 1897	2,456.96
Total	$873,071.84

All of which warrants were duly presented for payment, and bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, amounting approximately, principal and interest, on November 30th, 1910, to the sum of $2,114,762.06;

And, Whereas, the major portion of the above indebtedness is held in the state school fund as an investment, which, under the constitution of the state, must forever remain inviolate and intact, any loss thereof to be supplied by the state;

And, Whereas, it further appears that all of said warrants were issued in payment of the ordinary expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state government, including the per diem and mileage of the members of the general assembly; the per diem of the legislative clerks and employes; the salaries of the governors, attorney generals, secretaries of state, superintendents of public instruction, state auditors, treasurers of state, and other elective and appointive executive officers and employes, judges of the supreme, district and criminal courts, and district attorneys; the legislative, executive and judicial incidental and contingent expenses; and expenses incurred for the erection of buildings, and the maintenance of the state penitentiary, insane asylum, industrial school, reformatory, agricultural college and soldiers' and sailors' home; and,

Whereas, no moneys are now in the hands of the state treasurer, of the revenues of the fiscal years aforesaid, wherewith to pay said warrants, or any of them: and all the said indebtedness should be funded at a lower rate of interest; therefore

Section 2. There shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado, at the next general election of members of the General Assembly, for their approval or rejection, the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Colorado, which, when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon, shall be valid as a part of the Constitution, to-wit:

Section Three (3) of Article Eleven (XI) of the Constitution of the State of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 3. The state shall not contract any debt by loan in any form, except to provide for casual deficiencies of revenue erect public buildings for the use of the state, suppress insurrection, defend the state, or, in time of war, assist in defending the United States; and the amount of the debt contracted in any one year to provide for deficiencies of revenue, shall not exceed one-fourth of a mill on each dollar of valuation of taxable property within the state, and the aggregate amount of such debt shall not at any time exceed three-fourths of a mill on each dollar of said valuation, until the valuation shall equal one hundred millions of dollars, and thereafter such debt shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars, and the debt incurred in any one year for erection of public buildings shall not exceed one-half mill on each dollar of said valuation; and the aggregate amount of such debt shall never at any time exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars (except as provided in section five of this article), and in all cases the valuation in this section mentioned shall be that of the assessment last preceding the creation of said debt;

"Provided, that, in addition to the amount of debt that may be incurred, as above, the state may contract a debt by loan for the purpose of paying the principal and accrued interest of all the outstanding warrants issued by this state during and for the years, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1897; said debt to be evidenced by registered coupon interest bearing funding bonds to an amount not exceeding $2,115,000.00, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said warrants and interest thereon.

"Said funding bonds shall be dated December 1st, 1910, shall be payable at the option of the State of Colorado at any time after ten years from their date, shall be absolutely due and payable fifty (50) years after their date, and shall be of the denomination of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each or any multiple thereof. The interest on said bonds shall be payable semi-annually at the rate of three per cent. per annum at the office of the state treasurer or at some place in the City of New York, U. S. A., and the principal of said bonds shall be payable at the office of the state treasurer.

"No such bonds shall be issued except at par and accrued interest, and upon the contemporaneous surrender and cancellation of a like amount of principal and interest of said warrants.

"Said bonds to an amount equaling the principal of said warrants now held by the public school fund shall be registered by the state auditor and state treasurer in the name and for the benefit of and payable only to the said fund, and shall not be transferable.

"And all such bonds to an amount equaling the interest on said warrants now held in the school found shall be sold by the state treasurer at not less than par and accrued interest and the proceeds thereof paid into the school fund, and distributed to the several counties and school districts of the state for school purposes in the proportions and in the manner required by law."

Section 3. Each elector voting at said election and desirous of voting for or against said amendment, shall deposit in the ballot box a ticket whereon shall be printed or written the words: "For the amendment to Section 3 of Article XI of the Constitution, Funding the State Indebtedness," and the words: "Against the amendment to Section 3 of Article XI of the Constitution; Funding the State Indebtedness," and shall indicate his approval or disapproval by placing a cross (X) opposite one or the other of said groups of words on his ballot.

The votes cast for the adoption or rejection of said amendment shall be canvassed, and the result determined, in the manner prescribed by the laws of the state for the canvass of votes for representatives in congress.

Section 4. Immediately upon ascertaining that said amendment to the Constitution has been adopted by the people of the state the governor, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general and secretary of state shall meet together at the office of the state treasurer, and organize as a debt funding board, by electing one of its members president and another secretary of said board. Each member of said board, and any of their successors in office, shall take and subscribe an oath of office and file the same with the secretary of state in the usual form required of state officers, for the faithful discharge of the duties required by this act. Said board is hereby authorized and empowered to subpoena witnesses, send for persons and papers administer oaths, and perform other acts necessary to the speedy and proper discharge of its duties. The treasurer and auditor shall furnish the necessary clerical help required by the board

Said board shall consider and determine the amount which should fairly and equitably be paid upon each of said warrants, and is an honest obligation of the state, and shall thereupon make and file a full and complete statement of its findings and determination with the auditor of the state, and the decision of a majority of said board with respect thereto shall be final.

Section 5. After said board has filed its report with the auditor of state, the governor, the treasurer and the secretary of state are hereby authorized to issue the bonds of the State of Colorado in accordance with the Constitution so amended in a sum not exceeding two million, one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars ($2,115,000.00) and to exchange said bonds, or so many thereof as may be necessary, at par and accrued interest, for said warrants of the State of Colorado, issued in and for the years 1887, 1888, 1889, 1892, 1893, 1894 and 1897, at par and the interest accrued thereon, upon surrender of an equal amount of said warrants for cancellation. The holders of any said warrants may pay into the State treasury any difference less than $100.00 each, necessary to pay for the bonds so delivered to them respectively.

Said bonds shall be dated December 1st, 1910, shall be due and payable in fifty years, with the option of redemption at par and accrued interest in the order of their number at any time after ten years from their date, at the office of the state treasurer of the State of Colorado, and shall bear interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum payable semi-annually at the office of the state treasurer in the City of Denver, Colorado, or in the City of New York Said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, beginning at number one, and shall be registered in the office of the auditor of state, and his certificate of such registration, attested by the seal of his office affixed to each bond, shall be evidence of their legal issue.

Section 6. The bonds issued under this act shall be known as "Funding Bonds, Series of 1910," and shall be signed by the governor, countersigned by the state treasurer, and attested by the secretary of state, who shall affix the great seal of the state to each bond. Such bonds shall be numbered and registered in a book kept for that purpose by the state auditor and state treasurer, in the order in which they are issued. Each bond shall be payable to the bearer, and shall state upon its face the amount for which it is issued, the date of its issuance, and the title of this act, together with the section and article of the constitution authorizing the issuance of said bonds, and the title and text of this act shall be printed on the reverse side of each of said bonds. Only such amount and number of said bonds, shall be issued as may be necessary to take up or pay the outstanding warrants of the state hereinabove mentioned

Section 7 Whenever the bonds provided in this act are issued, it shall be the duty of the state board of equalization to levy and assess a special tax on all taxable property in this state, sufficient in amount to meet the semi-annual interest accruing on said bonds, which tax when collected shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the interest fund of said bonds, known as "Funding Bonds, Series of 1910;" and for the ultimate redemption of said bonds there shall be levied annually for forty years, after ten years from the date of their issuance such a tax upon all the taxable property in the state as shall create an annual fund equal to two and one-half per cent. (2½ per cent) of the whole amount of the bonds issued, which fund shall be called "Funding Bonds, Series of 1910, Sinking Fund."

All taxes for interest upon and for the redemption of said bonds shall be levied and collected as other state taxes, and shall be paid into the state treasury in cash only. The proceeds thereof shall be kept by the state treasurer as a distinct fund under the proper heads, to be issued in payment of the interest on and for the redemption of said bonds, or for their purchase as hereinafter provided, and for no other purpose whatever; Provided, that whenever any surplus remains to the credit of said interest fund, after the full payment of the interest maturing in any year the state treasurer shall cause such surplus to be transferred to the credit of the "Funding Bonds, Series of 1910, Sinking Fund."

All moneys belonging to said sinking fund may be invested by the state treasurer in any of the bonds issued under this act, but not otherwise.

Section 8. The treasurer shall include in his biennial report a statement of the interest collected in pursuance of this act, the amount paid, and also the amount, if any, carried to the sinking fund, and how invested. When any of the said bonds are purchased or redeemed under this act, it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to cancel the same, so that they can be plainly identified, and cause the record of such cancellation to be made in the registry books of both the state treasurer and the state auditor, and they shall also be kept on file in the state treasurer's office; and any such purchases and cancellations shall also be made to appear in the biennial statement of the state treasurer.

Section 9. For the payment of coupons representing the first year's interest accrued on the bonds to be issued under this act, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to apply any moneys at that time in his hands belonging to the general revenue fund, or the funds accruing from interest on bank deposits; and so much money as may be necessary therefor is hereby appropriated out of such funds for the payment of said interest

Section 10. The governor and attorney general are hereby authorized to prescribe the form of the bonds and coupons to be issued under this act, subject to the provisions of this act; and all such bonds so acquired for and retained in the school fund, shall have the words "Not transferable" plainly stamped across the face of said bonds.

APPROVED, April 23, 1909.

KILLS DEER ON MOUNT—A two-point buck deer was killed Thursday on Mount Manitou by Roy Walker of Manitou, who was hunting with several other boys. Walker killed a deer in the same vicinity last season.

SAID TO BE DIVORCED WIFE OF PETER SELLS

According to Kansas City newspapers, Mrs. George Edwards of Manitou, who has asked the police to try and find her husband, said to have started east in her automobile several days ago is the divorced wife of Peter Sells, famous as a showman. She was granted a decree in 1905 and received $75,000 alimony. Later she married Edwards, who, at that time, it is said was serving drinks in a Main street saloon.

A few weeks ago the proverbial woman in the case is said to have destroyed Mrs. Edwards' peace of mind, and she complained to the authorities. Edwards and his wife had planned to go to Kansas in the automobile, but when the time for starting drew near it was suggested, it is said, that Mrs. Edwards take the trip by train. Anyway, Edwards disappeared in the big auto, which Mrs. Edwards says is her property.

DELEGATES WILL NOT ALL RETURN HERE IMMEDIATELY

The delegates to the Dry Farming congress at Spokane which has just closed after choosing Colorado Springs as the next meeting place, will not all return home at once. It is expected that John Lennox will be the first one to put in an appearance, followed by County Commissioners Banta and Madden. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Henderson will take a trip down the coast, arriving here in about two weeks. The others will take even more time or different routes to this city.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by all druggists.
